DIRECT TALKS CERTAIN FOR NEAR FUTURE

Discussion on Anglo-French Proposals Already Opened in European Capitals

GERMANY IS READY FOR CONVERSATIONS

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP). — Direct conversations between Great Britain and Germany, not only on the proposed Western European defensive air pact, but on the whole field covered in the Anglo-French accord of February 3, tonight were declared certain to take place in the near future.

This was a remarkable step forward from the situation prevailing following the Anglo-French invitation to Germany (and to Italy and Belgium) to join in a series of accords designed to bring Germany back into the League of Nations, conclude a general arms limitation treaty, extend the Central and Eastern European paets and thus consolidate European peace for years to come.

DIRECT DISCUSSION

Great Britain today, after days of consideration by the British and French Governments following the initial German reply to the Anglo-French overtures, opened direct discussion with the Governments of Germany, Italy and Russia through the British Ambassadors in the respective capitals.

NEARLY SCARES MAN TO DEATH

Post Forced to Land on Desert—Flyer's Garb Alarms Motorist

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP).—A leaky oil line thwarted Wiley Post, one-eyed globe girdler, in his attempt to dash through the substratosphere from Los Angeles to New York today in less than eight hours, but he got a taste of sky-high speed that made him eager and confident for his next attempt soon, possibly in a few days.

Taking off here at 6:07 a.m., P.S.T., Post climbed nearly five miles and leveled off. An oil line sprang a leak and he came down without landing gear in Muroc Dry Lake, on the Mojave Desert, 125 miles north of here.

"Boy, how I was traveling!" he exclaimed as mechanics reached the scene. He did not say what speed he attained.

GLIDES LONG WAY

No better landing spot could have been picked. Cutting off his motor at an altitude of 24,500 feet, he glided down.

The only man nearby did not see the landing. He was a motorist, 400 yards distant, tinkering with a balky auto engine. Post, attired in his grotesque stratosphere flying suit with cylindrical helmet, climbed out of his ship and walked to the stalled motor car. He tapped the motorist on the back.

"The man's knees buckled and he almost fell over," said Post, describing the incident. The motorist ran around to the back of his auto and peered at Post. Finally the words of Post restored the man's courage.

FRIGHTENED STIFF

"Gosh fellow!" he exclaimed when he found his voice, "I was frightened stiff. I thought you had dropped out of the moon or somewhere."

The two went to the nearest telephone and reported to the airplane factory here. Arrangements were made to send a new propeller out and bring the Winnie Mae back to Los Angeles.

FLAMING PLANE FALLS INTO SEA

Machine Not Identified But May Have Been Attached to British Fleet

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP).—An unidentified airplane was reported today to have burst into flames and crashed into the sea near Saba, in the Dutch West Indies. A message received by the United States coast guard cutter Unalaga, at San Juan, Puerto Rico, described the airplane's fate, but darkness fell without its identity being established.

A dispatch from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, said no information had been received there about the airplane falling off Saba, 150 miles south of St. Thomas.

It was suggested that a large British fleet of twenty-five warships, including the battleships Nelson and Rodney, were in St. Kitts Roadstead today and that possibly the plane was from one of them.

Hours of Work and Weekly Day of Rest Bills Brought Down

Authority for New Legislation Taken From International Labor Office Conventions — Measures Apply to Most Industrial Operations But Not Office Workers or Supervisors

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—A further step in the Government's reform programme was taken today when Prime Minister R. B. Bennett introduced two bills by which he hopes to establish a maximum eight-hour day, forty-eight-hour week, and a statutory weekly day of rest in industrial undertakings. The measures were given first readings and will be discussed next week.

Mr. Bennett draws his constitutional authority for this legislation from the same source as that on which he based his unemployment insurance bill—international labor office conventions to which Canada is a signatory.

CONVENTIONS RATIFIED

The conventions referring to hours of work and the weekly day of rest were among five ratified by both Houses of Parliament within the past fortnight.

The measures apply to practically all industrial operations but not to office workers, those engaged in supervision or management or to those holding positions of confidence.

The Weekly-Day-of-Rest Act is along lines of the Lord's Day Act with some widening of scope. It provides penalties for failure of employers to observe its provisions, which require that all the staff employed in any industrial undertak-

Not Taking Cheques for Gold Owed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP).—Maintaining that the recent Supreme Court gold decision strengthened its position that gold obligations under the 1904 treaty cannot be paid off in devalued dollars, the Panama Government will decline to accept a United States Treasury cheque for $250,000 if it is tendered for the 1934 rental of the Panama Canal zone. It was learned on good authority that the Panama Government intends to return the cheque to the Treasury, as it did last year, and ask for gold coin instead, as specified under the thirty-one-year-old treaty.

WOMAN SLAIN IN VANCOUVER

Mrs. Rosie Bova Shot Down on Knight Road by Unknown Assailant

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22 (CP).—Mrs. Rosie Bova, twenty-two, was shot down and killed on Knight Road near 29th Avenue, about 10:40 o'clock tonight, by an unknown assailant. Police are searching the bush in the vicinity on the theory that the slayer may have committed suicide.

Mrs. Bova had been separated from her husband, James Bova, for the past three months. Police are trying to learn from him any facts that they may throw light on the case.

Three bullets struck the woman, and according to residents of the nearest houses, about a half-block distant, a fourth shot was fired. The residents, rushing to their windows at the sound, said they saw a man without hat or coat, running from the scene.

The empty shells were found nearby.

Mrs. Bova, whose maiden name was Moropito, had been living with her parents on Lanark Street, a few blocks from where she was killed.

"Secession" Raised By Omineca Member In B.C. Legislature

A. M. Manson, K.C., M.P.P., Fears Political Rebellion in West Unless Trade Balance Righted — Welfare, Education and Health Discussed

THREAT of secession of British Columbia from the Confederation of Provinces in Canada was voiced in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by A. M. Manson, K.C. (Liberal, Omineca), during closing hours of the main debate. A stirring defence of the Government on educational and social welfare matters had preceded the closing address, when Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir fought back vigorously against implied departmental criticisms in the House.

At 4:33 p.m. the eight-day debate ended, the Legislature adopting the customary motion that His Honor be thanked, unanimously. Eleven bills were given first reading in a rush, as the House adjourned for the week-end, until 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Mr. Manson's secession talk came at the end of the long debate, resumed on opening by the Minister of Education, for the only Cabinet reply of the debate. The budget is expected Wednesday, from present indications.

MINISTER OF EDUCATION

Paternal and maternal advice had been offered to the Government, Dr. Weir said. Helpful admonitions had been at times accompanied by "an admixture of nebulous nonsense—a hodge-podge of fantastic futilities," and some other choice collegi-

French Foreign Minister Agrees With Viewpoint of Austrian Envoys

PARIS, Feb. 22 (CP-Havas). — France and Austria are in complete agreement on Austria's problems in Central Europe, Pierre Laval, French Foreign Minister, announced tonight in a communique issued at the end of the first formal conference with Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria and his Foreign Minister, Baron Egon Berger-Waldenegg, here for diplomatic talks. Laval's statement said:

"M. Flandin and I have been happy to establish the perfect identity of our views with those of the Austrian ministers on all problems in Central Europe of particular interest in Austria.

"We have met for the consolidation of peace, and it is toward that end we are working."

Foreign Minister Berger-Waldenegg said "Austria's foreign policy is directed toward consolidation of peace in Europe and out intention is to work for closer bonds between France and Austria."

KAMLOOPS, Feb. 22 (CP). — Caught between cars in shunting operations at the Canadian Pacific Railway yards today, Herbert G. Provins, of Kamloops, died in the hospital a few hours later. He was terribly crushed.

Provins was a car inspector and was engaged in coupling the air hose on a freight train. He had resided here twenty-six years.

TRIBAL RITES ARE INVOKED

Indians Gather to Celebrate Remarriage According to Historic Custom

NANAIMO, Feb. 22.—Nine tribes of Vancouver Island and the Mainland joined today with the host tribe, the famous old Shy-ny-mo tribe on Nanaimo Reserve, to celebrate the remarriage in old-fashioned Indian custom of two well-known Island Indians, whose romance started in the hop fields in the Yakima Valley last year, culminating in their marriage in the Mission Church here.

The bride and groom, who made their nuptial vows for a second time, are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Violet Bartleman, daughter of Joe Bartleman, reputed wealthy farmer of Saanich. The groom is a grandson of Chief Tsemelieno, of the Musqueam tribe, Point Grey. The old chief arrived here carrying a cane presented to him by the late Queen Victoria, to join in the festivities.

The aged father of the bride, apparently satisfied that the marriage

NATIONAL BODY TO BE FORMED

Organization of Canadian Chamber of Agriculture to Be Undertaken

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Representatives of agricultural interests throughout Canada today laid the groundwork for a national Chamber of Agriculture to function in much the same manner as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. They decided to meet next November at the Royal Winter Fair, in Toronto, and organize the chamber.

Their conference, which followed the thirteenth annual meeting of the Canadian Horticultural Council, divided on one question only, whether to organize the national chamber in advance of agriculture. Representatives decided to lay both plans before the provincial organizations and to send delegates to the Winter fair with power to launch the national scheme.

Sectional differences were merged as the representatives of wheat, fruit, vegetables, milk producers and allied branches of the industry agreed in principle on a national chamber, precluding organization of an all-Western body which had been mooted.

Thirty Soviet Citizens Arrested Last Summer by Japanese Finally Given Freedom

MOSCOW, Feb. 22 (AP).—Six station masters and twenty-four other Soviet citizens employed by the Chinese Eastern Railway, arrested by Japanese and Manchukuan authorities last Summer, were reported in a Soviet news agency dispatch from Harbin today to have been released.

The arrests caused the Soviet Foreign Office last August to demand explanations from Manchukuo. Reports published here at that time charged that many Soviet citizens were arrested and maltreated in an effort to force confessions for a series of train wrecks and bandit raids

FIVE SHIPS ON TWO OCEANS SEND OUT CALLS OF DISTRESS

Italian Steamer Abandoned and Crew Rescued During Terrific Storm on Bay of Biscay — Three Others in Same Area Send Out Messages for Aid When Crippled by Seas

British Freighter Ashore Off East Coast of Japan

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP).—Ships in both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans sent out distress calls today. One was ashore, one was abandoned by her crew and three others were crippled and wallowing in heavy seas. A terrific storm in the Bay of Biscay crippled four freighters, one of which was abandoned in a sinking condition, while another freighter went ashore off the Coast of Japan and wirelessed for immediate assistance stating the ship was in a dangerous position.

The crew of one freighter in the Bay of Biscay, the Ss. Taide, an Italian vessel, was rescued by the Ss. Galea, wireless messages picked up by Radio Marine Corporation said. There was no loss of life.

Three other vessels were disabled, and one, the Ottinge, an English ship, was sending up distress rockets after wirelessing SOS, messages her steering gear was down. The French salvage tug Abeille No. 22, messages picked up by Radio Marine said, was en route to aid her.

LOSES PROPELLER

The Caterina Madre, 4,009-ton freighter of the Corrado Line, messaged she had lost a propeller fifty miles north of Cape Ortegal, Spain. The tug Seeflake was endeavoring to reach the Caterina Madre to tow her to port.

Dust Storm Leaves Ruin In Its Wake

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22 (AP).—A blinding dust storm, which swept southward across Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, and into the Texas Panhandle left one dead tonight and extensive damage to crops.

Rolling before a fifty-six-mile wind, the strange cloud moved out of the north yesterday and settled today in Texas. In its path the sun was obscured and the day turned into semi-darkness. Traffic was halted and communication lines were broken down in many communities. Street lights were turned on in mid-afternon in towns.

MAYOR WILL GO EAST FOR CITY

Council Decides to Send Chief Magistrate to Forthcoming Conference

Mayor Leeming will go East to represent the city when the gathering of municipal representatives from all over Canada is held at Ottawa or Montreal. This was decided upon at the council meeting yesterday when a letter from the mayor of Calgary was read dealing with the matter.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar said that if such a gathering were to be held to discuss financial matters, he thought that Victoria should be represented.

Mayor Leeming gave the information that Mayor McGeer, of Vancouver, was anxious that Victoria should be represented at the gathering.

On motion of Alderman Dewar, the Mayor was authorized to proceed in due course to attend the gathering.

Alderman Andrew McGavin suggested that there should be a report from the Mayor on his trip to the Calgary convention.

DETAILED NEEDS

The Mayor explained that on his return he had given a report to the press and considered that it would not be necessary to give a formal report to the members of the council. He had sent to each of the councillors a review of the resolutions that were passed.

However, His Worship proceeded to tell of the outstanding points connected with the convention. He said it was made evident by the delegates present that the system now in vogue must be changed or the municipalities could not continue to operate. Personally he fa-

WOULD RULE HIS FAMILY

Father of Quintuplets Dissatisfied With Treatment of His Other Children

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 22 (AP).—Papa Oliva Dionne, is "all burned up" because he can't be a parent in fact to his quintuplet daughters, as well as in reputation, he declared tonight.

Preparing to join Mrs. Dionne in one of his "three-a-day" appearances at a theatre here, the slim French-Canadian explained heatedly why he wanted control of his family back in Callander, Ont.—the baby quintuplets and the forgotten five.

SPLITTING UP FAMILY

"I've helped raise five children so I guess I should be one of the guardians if the children have to have guardians," he told newsmen at the theatre. "We don't like the way the Government is splitting up our family.

"Why, the five older children have only seen their little sisters twice—both times behind glass, and other people can get into the hospital."

Dionne, in explaining the retention of an attorney to seek adjustment of a contract he and Mrs. Dionne signed with the Ontario Government following the biggest event of their lives, said he and his wife wanted a hand in rearing the children—and in controlling the $100,000 trust fund established for them.

UNFAIR TO OTHERS

"The other children are not being treated right," he declared. "That's why we are on this tour."

Dionne said that with the birth of his five daughters he was taken

Falklanders Are Centre Of Protest

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 22 (AP).—For a century the Falkland Islands have been British and for a century the Argentine Government has been periodically protesting that they rightfully belong to Argentina.

Today the Ministry of the Interior cancelled police identity papers given two Falklanders because the police, preparing the papers, listed them as "British."

PREPARING TO LEAVE LEAGUE

Paraguay With Armies Advancing Unwilling to Hear Voice of Peacemaker

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Her armies knocking at Bolivia's very doors, Paraguay tonight apparently made ready to follow Japan and Germany out of the League of Nations.

With the time limit for Asuncion's acceptance of the League's Chaco peace plan scheduled to expire on Sunday, Paraguayan clamor for withdrawal from Geneva was insistent and Buenos Aires diplomats saw little likelihood that President Eusebio Ayala could resist.

The Paraguayan press, public and political circles were especially angered at the League's action in lifting its arms embargo against Bolivia, which has accepted the plan without reservations, while maintaining it against Paraguay, which thus far has returned answers tantamount to rejection.

AT OUTER DEFENCES

Because General Jose Estigarribia's Paraguayan veterans have advanced through the disputed Chaco area to the outer defenses of the Bolivian army base at Villa Montes, observers here were confident that the Asuncion Government's final word to the Geneva peace proposals would be "No."

Paraguay's refusal to establish the neutral zone, accept the neutral patrol and submit to the arbitration envisaged in the League's latest plan was mere repetition of the chronic difficulty in the way of peacemakers—the refusal of either belligerent to consider peace while its armies are advancing.

Mrs. Alex Gillespie Wins Beatty Trophy At Empress Tourney

Member of Victoria Golf Club Defeats Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, Uplands, at Twentieth Hole — Steil and Cuppage Reach Men's Handicap Final

AIDED by several strokes, Mrs. Alex Gillespie, Victoria Golf Club, upset the old tradition that the medalist rarely survives match play, when she came through with a thrilling twentieth-hole victory over Mrs. E. M. Cuppage, Uplands Club, in the women's handicap final yesterday at the Oak Bay course in the Empress midwinter tournament.

The narrow decision of the qualifying round winner gives her possession of the coveted E. W. Beatty Trophy, symbolic of the honors, which was captured twelve months ago by Mrs. Jack Gray.

The successful tournament, which attracted a record-breaking field of 209 competitors, will wind up today with the finals of the men's handicap and open events set. First flight finals in the handicap and open will also be staged.

STEIL VS. CUPPAGE

Lee Steil, Seattle's low handicap golfer, will face Ed Cuppage, Uplands Club, in the thirty-six-hole final for the men's handicap honors, while the first flight in the same event will be a purely Seattle affair, Ralph Whaley meeting E. J. Ketchum. H. L. Rust, young Hoquiam, Wash., player, who takes his game seriously, will face Whaley in the eighteen-hole open final, and

COMPETENT TO STAND HIS TRIAL

Decision Made by Jury After Evidence Regarding Sanity of Harold Vermilyea

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP).—Harold W. Vermilyea today was adjudged competent to stand trial for murder after a five-minute deliberation by a reworn jury.

After a series of swift and all-important developments late in the afternoon, the murder hearing was continued with the defence seeking to establish that, if Vermilyea killed his mother last October 4 with a hatchet, he was insane at the time.

The first real crisis of the ten-day-old trial came when Dr. Goldwin Howland, Toronto psychiatrist and neurologist called by the defence, testified that Vermilyea was of the "paranoid type," and that, if he committed the crime, he did so while insane. The question was given to the jury to decide.

REPORTS SHOW IMPROVEMENTS

Visitors Tell of Better Times Being Enjoyed in Canada and United States

Business is definitely better in most parts of Canada and United States, according to many reports received from visitors to the city during the last few days.

S. E. Howarth, manager of the Winnipeg office of the Employers' Liability Assurance Company, Limited, in an interview at the Empress Hotel yesterday, said Manitoba enjoyed a slight improvement in 1934 and business men all looked for a big improvement in 1935. Referring to his own business, Mr. Howarth explained it did not feel the depression until a year after general business, and accordingly, he did not look for good times for his firm until after the others had regained their normal swing.

UNUSUAL BUSINESS

In Hamilton, good times are being enjoyed by business men, E. D. Gott, of that city, said last night at the Empress Hotel. The firm for which he works, the Brantford Washing Machine Company, Limited, did better business in 1934 than it had for the last twenty-one years, Mr. Gott explained. He added that most manufacturing companies in the East were now busy filling big orders.

With little likelihood of there being a shortage of wheat in the middle States, as experienced last year owing to the great drought, that section of the United States is enthusiastically looking to 1935 to bring about better times for all, it was stated by Howard Lipsey, member of the Chicago office of the Norris Grain Company, Limited,

Salt Lake City Warring on Rats

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 22 (CP).—A rat-killing brigade of forty men will start to rid the city of rats, estimated at 10,000,000. John M. Both Dionnes gave Dr. Allan Dafoe, physician to the quintuplets, their praise in discussing their family troubles. They said he had been "fine."

OFFICIALS SILENT

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP).—Ontario Government officials tonight declined to say whether Oliva Dionne, father of the quintuplets, had power to break the court order establishing a board of guardians to protect the interest of the quintuplets.

A report from Windsor said Paul Martinan, Windsor barrister, had been retained by the parents of the quintuplets in an effort to gain full parental control over the babies and a share of the money the trust fund has received from testimonials.

"The trustees have certain definite duties, they were appointed by the court and answerable to the court and not the Government," said Hon. A. W. Roebuck, Attorney-General.

HOURS OF WORK BILL INTRODUCED

ing affected shall have a rest of at least twenty-four consecutive hours in every seven days.

THE DAY OF REST

Where possible the day of rest must be given the whole staff simultaneously, if possible on a Sunday. Exemptions from application of the act may be granted by the Governor-in-Council after consultation with responsible associations of workers or employers when they exist.

Subsection 2 of Section 5 of the Lord's Day Act, is repealed. This section provided the weekly day of rest for those engaged in occupations necessitating Sunday work would not apply if the regular hours of labor did not exceed eight in a day.

Penalties provided in both acts are fines not less than $20 and not more than $100 for each violation.

LIMITATION OF HOURS

The Limitation of Hours Act will not apply to persons holding positions of supervision or management, nor to persons employed in a confidential capacity.

Where the daily hours of work on one or more days of the week are less than eight, the limit may be exceeded on other days of the same week but not by more than one hour in a day. Where persons are employed in shifts the eight-hour limit may be exceeded provided that over a period of three weeks the average does not exceed eight hours in a day and forty-eight in the week.

Exceptions to meet emergency cases such as accidental, actual or threatened, or urgency of work being done to machinery or plant, may be permissible to the extent that serious interference with ordinary working of the undertaking may be avoided.

Similar exceptions are permitted on work of a nature requiring longer periods of continuous work than eight hours, providing that the average hours do not exceed fifty-six a week. Other exceptions may be granted by the Governor-in-Council, after consultation with recognized associations of workers and employers.

vored a presentation of the situation to the Dominion authorities. He and Mayor McGeer would present the case for British Columbia municipalities to the British Columbia Government. A similar action would be followed with other provinces. Then, he said, it was possible the provincial governments would have to present the case for the provinces to the Dominion.

The Mayor believed that assistance to Victoria would have to come to the extent of something like relief amounting to $800,000 or $1,000,000. Only by united action involving all representative bodies like the Dominion, the provinces and the municipalities would the relief needed be accomplished. There was of necessity reduced interest charges and the extension of the life of the liabilities.

IN DANGEROUS POSITION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (AP).—The British steamship Catherine Radcliffe, 5,590 tons, went ashore today off the coast of Japan and sent distress calls, said a message relayed here to the Globe Wireless from the liner President Pierce.

"Lying in dangerous position. Need assistance immediately," said the vessel's call for help.

The call was intercepted by the Pierce at 19:48 G.C.T. (11:48 a.m. P.S.T.), and the latter ship, on her way from Yokohama to Honolulu, reported at 20:35 G.C.T. that "the distress has apparently been taken care of."

The Catherine Radcliffe's position was given as latitude 34:57 north, longitude 135:58 east. The President Pierce said the steamer was ashore off Cape Hachiman, and that the engine room and stokehold were flooded and the cargo holds leaking badly.

GO TO GIVE AID

TOKIO, Feb. 23 (AP). — A destroyer and a seaplane were dispatched from the Yokohuka navy base today to the aid of the British steamship Catherine Radcliffe, grounded on the southeast coast of the Boso Peninsula outside of Tokio Bay. Although the ship and crew were in no immediate danger experts said refloating her would be difficult.

The spot where the vessel ran into trouble is outside Tokio Bay, and the strategic military zone, and thus is not open to suspicion of espionage. The American vessel Elizabeth Kellogg went aground in the zone yesterday. Her officers and crew were cleared of suspicion of espionage, after being detained for a time, however. The navy plane reported fishing boats took off a majority of the crew of the vessel, which was a mile and a half off shore.

EFFECTS REPAIRS

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP). — The owners of the British steamer Branksome Chine, reported disabled with a broken steering gear in the North Atlantic yesterday, said today temporary repairs had been made and the vessel was proceeding to Clyde. All of the twenty-seven members of the ship's crew were safe, the others were informed.

in accordance with Canadian laws is successful, not only consented to the remarriage in accordance with ancient Indian traditions, but sent to Nanaimo 1,000 loaves of bread and ducks roasted over a campfire for the feast. The groom presented the bride's relatives with a fine collection of hand-woven blankets in keeping with the traditions of his race. Instead of the old dug-out on which guests depended for transportation in the early days, the guests on this occasion arrived by train, bus, gas boats and private car.

They include representatives from the Songhee tribe, Esquimalt; Panalkut, Kuper Island; Musqueam, Point Grey, Vancouver; Squamish, North Vancouver; Tulsleaum, Duncan, Cowichan and Quamichan bands. The ceremony, in accordance with ancient Indian custom, is the first to be held in ten years, authoritative sources at the reserve state.

A SOLEMN BOND

According to Wilkes James, famous totem pole carver, it is a solemn service creating a bond that only death can sever.

If either party ever considered "walking out," parents of either side, backed by the tribes represented will, if they so desire, use force to make either party see the error of their ways. They will admonish the offender in such an event, reminding him or her of the ceremony, and the many tribes who witnessed it and wished them well. It usually ends with the offender making the necessary overtures to make a reconciliation possible.

Many native sons and daughters of the local reserve regard the event as highly educational in assisting them to preserve the traditions of their race and to enable the younger generation to have an eye-picture of the quaint ceremony. Some of the girls say they are not eligible to be dancers, and do not wish to be. They are satisfied to continue in their march of progress made possible by good schools and a religious training.

THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY

The marriage ceremony consisted of an announcement made by the bride's father to the effect that he was satisfied the Browns are well matched, and appreciation was expressed by each tribe present. Then the groom's father, Edward Brown, presented his family mask to the bride to be taken to her relatives in Saanich. The tribes present note the destination of the mask in case they require it for funerals, christenings or other festivities.

Dancing by the different tribes present, displaying modern versions of the old-fashioned figures, followed in a barn specially strengthened for the occasion. It lasted until early in the morning. The quaint music of the drum, mingling with the clank of the rattles, set the time for the gestures and movements of dancers. The position of Nanaimo Reserve, a short distance from the southern borders of Nanaimo Municipality, permitting constant contact with the whites, perhaps accounts for the fact that a number of the members of the local reserve are happy wives of white men in the province. From the ranks of the local reserve have sprung some really beautiful girls, fair of skin and fine of stature.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS

Some girls occupy positions as domestic servants in prominent Nanaimo homes, are considered very reliable, make good housekeepers, and are keen to learn how to cook all the modern dishes of the white man.

Recently, some good types of bungalows have been built on Nanaimo Reserve, and others are under course of construction there at the present time.

DIRECT TALKS IN NEAR FUTURE SURE

After only a few hours, it was reported preliminary discussions in Berlin had revealed complete agreement that the contemplated Anglo-German conversations should not be confined to the question of the air pact—virtually the only phase on which Germany expressed willingness to talk at first—but should embrace the whole field covered in the Anglo-French communique.

It has not yet been definitely decided whether the Anglo-German conversations shall be conducted by Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon in Berlin, or by German Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath in London.

WOULD SUIT HITLER

Talks in Berlin appeared much more likely. They would not only enable Adolf Hitler, who has the last word on German foreign policy, to participate directly, but they would facilitate a visit by Sir John to Moscow and possibly to Warsaw, a diplomatic tour which has been given earnest consideration since the Russian note of Wednesday, which urged that the Anglo-French accords should be carried out in their entirety, with special stress on the proposed Eastern Locarno.

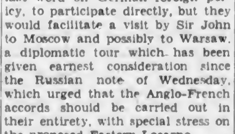

Sir John Simon is expected to visit Berlin and probably Moscow after his conference at Paris on February 28. Germany today informed the British Government that she would welcome this visit, and that she is prepared to discuss, if not, strictly speaking, to negotiate, all features of the February 3 proposals toward which hitherto she has maintained almost complete reserve.

Moscow likewise notified London the Soviet Union would welcome a visit by Sir John.

DESIRE FOR SECURITY

Simultaneously, British envoys at Paris and Rome were stating to the Governments to which they are respectively accredited that Great Britain desires to forward the security of Europe and asks their full co-operation.

The question of the eastern pact, which the Anglo-French accord listed as one of the projects to be carried out inter-dependently with the others, appears to offer the greatest obstacle to a general agreement. It has not yet been fully considered in all its implications in London. France and Russia are its chief sponsors; Germany and Poland are distinctly aloof. But it is recognized here that the existing series of non-aggression pacts would form a useful basis for future negotiations in this region.

A PIONEER CANAL

As the gateway through which those bound for the great West from Canada passed the beautiful St. Mary River has been of vast strategic importance since the earliest days of New France. Etienne Brule, the famous coureur de bois, who accompanied Champlain on his exploration of the Ottawa River may have been the first white man to visit the site of Sault Ste. Marie, about 1620. Nicolet probably passed the same spot in 1624, but the first definitely recorded visit was that of the Jesuits, Jogues and Raymbault, in 1641. Marquette established the mission twenty-seven years later. Radisson, Jolliet, the Verendryes and others whose names recall pioneer journeys more exciting than fiction knew well the isolated post which was, as the fine city which replaced it still is, a halfway house between the East and the West.

As the fur trade grew in the days of British occupation the portage necessitated by the rapids grew more troublesome and in 1797 the Northwest Company showed amazing enterprise by constructing a canal, half a mile long, by means of which its boats and canoes could pass around the unnavigable portion. There was a lock thirty-eight feet long, nearly nine feet wide and with a lift of nine feet. The canal was destroyed by the Americans in the War of 1812. The first ship canal was a construction on the United States' side of the river in the 1850's, and has given place since to the four immense locks now in use. The Canadian canal was completed in 1895.

In fairly recent times a portion of the original lock of the Northwest Company was uncovered and rebuilt in stone, so that visitors may visualize the original forerunner of the great canals which now make the St. Mary River an essential link in the world's busiest waterway.

Echoes From The Gallery

Eight working days from its start, the main debate in the Legislature ended yesterday at 4:33 p.m. Mr. Speaker put the question, that His Honor be thanked for his gracious speech and presented with an Address in Reply. The House agreed unanimously.

Nine public bills from the Government side and two public bills privately presented came down in the House in a sudden blizzard. Within ten minutes, the eleven bills had received first readings. Official explanation of their contents will follow on second reading.

The task of catching a culprit and convicting him still remains. Financial responsibility clauses are also to be revamped, it was privately explained.

D. M. MacKay was elected chairman of the railway committee, and George M. Murray, secretary, at a brief organization meeting in the morning. It was announced the committee would discuss train times on the Pacific Great Eastern and future possibilities of extension of the government-owned road to link up with the Peace River, if a mandate is found for such discussions.

Premier Pattullo moved adjournment at 4:48 p.m., until 2:30 p.m. Monday. Rev. T. R. Lancaster read prayers, at opening.

On Monday morning, after the week-end recess, three major committees will swing into action, municipal affairs, public accounts and pirvate bills. The first named will receive the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities; the second will commence investigation of accounts to March 31, 1934, and the third committee will begin hearings on the Victoria City private bill.

The Minister of Lands replied to questions as to the timber content, and operations, on the Douglas Timber Reserve.

Expenses entailed to date have been $380, and the subject matter of the case is under appeal to the Privy Council now, the Premier has replied to R. H. Pooley, K.C.

Bank loans to the White Pine Lumber Company, Ltd., of Nakusp; Regal Fruit Products, Ltd., of Summerland, and the Comox Valley Cannery, of Courtenay, were guaranteed by the Province through the Department of Industries since November, 1933. The guarantees were on bank loans totaling $20,000, since reduced, and were made by the Province on plant and chattel mortgages or other security, the Minister of Finance has replied to further questions.

ABSENTEE BALLOT MOTION REJECTED

House Defeats Motion to Permit Men in Relief Camps to Vote in Home Ridings

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—By a vote of thirty-seven to nineteen the House of Commons tonight rejected an amendment to the Election Act designed to permit men in unemployment relief camps to vote by absentee ballot in their home constituencies at Dominion elections. The proposal was sponsored by Angus MacInnis, Labor, Vancouver South, and was generally supported by Liberal, Labor and Farmer members and opposed by Conservatives. William Duff, of Antigonish-Guysborough, was the only Liberal to vote against it.

BLACKS DEFEAT NUGGETS 31-16

Blacks, Victoria High School basketball team, flashed their old form yesterday in their fine 31-to-16 defeat of Nuggets in the High School gymnasium. There was lots of smart ball handling, close checking, and sharpshooting done during the forty minutes of play. Walter and Rowe were the high scorers for the Blacks, while the Nuggets had their scoring well spread out amongst all the players. The half-time score was 15 to 11 for Blacks.

The final game of the school senior league will be played Tuesday when Shamrocks meet the first-half champions, Cardinals. This final game should provide plenty of action. On the conclusion of the senior league the junior league will get underway.

"Porky" Andrews and Bob Macmurchie refereed the game.

The teams and scores follow:

Blacks—Naysmith (2), Mair, Rowe (7), Smith (2), Ishida (4), Walker (16), Anderton and Noel.

Nuggets—Fricker, Payne (4), Hudson, Noakes, Berry (2), Jackson (4), Edge (5) and Kirkbride (1).

Swimmer Covers Over 100 Miles

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Pedro Candioti, Argentine swimmer who is attempting to make a non-stop swim down the Parana and Plata Rivers from Santa Fe to Buenos Aires—a distance of about 260 miles—was more than 100 miles on his way today after two days in the water.

Candioti started from Santa Fe at noon Wednesday and this morning passed Rosario, about 100 miles downstream. He hopes to reach Buenos Aires Monday morning. Aided by the current and able to rest from time to time by floating, Candioti had been in the water fifty-three hours this afternoon and was still going on, although he was tired.

Scaling Down C.N.R. Capital Structure Is Opposed by Premier

Action Not Advisable as Long as Grand Trunk Shareholders Press Financial Claims in Court —Minister Would Not "Hoodwink" Public

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Premier R. B. Bennett and his Minister of Railways, Hon. R. J. Manion, today came out definitely in the House of Commons against scaling down the capital structure of the Canadian National Railways. At present it was unfeasible, they held.

The bulky capital set-up of the Government-owned system entered debate when a bill to appoint new auditors for the road was advanced through committee stage. Liberal members, led by Hon. W. D. Euler, former national revenue minister, pressed for a scaling-down of capital and eliminating $1,700,000,000 which has been carried on the railways' books but, from a practical viewpoint, has been given up as lost.

A capital write-down was inadvisable as long as shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway pressed financial claims in the courts, said the Prime Minister. Even if it were done it would not add $1 to the earnings of the system or help pay the annual deficits. And, above all, retention of the figure on the railway's books would remind the Canadian people of past mistakes and act as a deterrent in the future.

A write-down, countered Mr. Euler, would place the road on a fair basis, "where the enemies of public ownership could not misrepresent it." The Canadian people would be able to see the true financial position and not have their confidence in public ownership shaken.

SHOULD NOT BE HIDDEN

On the other hand, Dr. Manion said, if the debt was written down the Government would be accused by opponents of public ownership of hoodwinking the people. There were some who believed the true picture should not be hidden because part of the $1,700,000,000 actually was paid out in money. (For years there has been no interest paid on it and no finance minister has expected the C.N.R. to repay it. Although the item has been carried on the books of the C.N.R. as a liability, it has not been listed as an asset by the Dominion).

Debate on the Canadian National Railways was brought about when the railway minister introduced a bill to appoint Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth, Guilfoyle & Nash as Canadian National auditors. He denied, however, that the Government was seeking revenge against George A. Touche & Company, auditors for the Canadian National Railways, as a penalty for suggesting that the capitalization of the railway be written down.

NOT DISMISSED

The Government, said Mr. Manion, was not dismissing the Touche firm, only changing auditors. Under the act, shareholders of banks could not have auditors for longer than two years. He said he believed new auditors would bring new thought and a new slant to the railway.

ALL FOOD MADE HER ILL

Caused by Acidity— Corrected by Kruschen

"It is only fair to pass these facts on," writes a nurse. "I was suffering from over-acidity and flatulence to such an extent that I was completely ill. I couldn't take food. When I actually forced myself to take something, I would be wretchedly ill. I have now taken Kruschen for 12 months, and I have no doubt that it has righted my digestive system. I am now quite fit and able to work with vigor again."—Nurse E.S.

Indigestion is caused by a failure in the flow of the gastric or digestive juices. As a result, your food, instead of being assimilated by your system, simply collects and ferments inside you, producing harmful acid poisons. The immediate effect of the six mineral salts in Kruschen is to promote the healthy flow of the vital juices of the body. As you continue with the "little daily dose," it insures the regular and complete elimination of all waste matter every day. And that means a complete end to indigestion. (Advt.)

DEATH REMOVES FRANCIS HINDS

Resident Here for Forty-Eight Years Passes—Funeral Services on Monday

Death claimed Francis Hinds yesterday at the family residence, 203 Raynor Avenue, aged seventy-five years.

Born in Brussels, Ont., Mr. Hinds came to Victoria about forty-eight years ago. He was a member of one of the first volunteer fire brigades ever assembled in Victoria.

In 1897, the deceased joined the gold rush to the Yukon and spent a number of years at White Horse before returning to Victoria.

Mr. Hinds was an active member of the Victoria West Brotherhood. He had been ill for some time. His passing will be mourned by a wide circle of friends in this city.

Mr. Hinds is survived by his widow, at home; one daughter, Mrs. Harold Butteris, 2519 Fernwood Road; one brother, Frederick Hinds, Victoria, and three brothers in Eastern Canada and the United States.

Rev. James Hyde will officiate at funeral services to be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. at McCall Bros'. Funeral Home. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

"SECESSION" RAISED BY OMINECA MEMBER

ate phrases. When confronted by the cold realities of public office, little was to be gained in indulgence in the pious nullities of a Utopian philosophy, he declared.

"Until we can establish a new social order, and this must be done gradually, we must make the best of the present one. Only certain harbingers of the New Jerusalem, who speak with the abandon and confidence of irresponsibility, will stoop to the moral nakedness of deceiving the electorate, with talk of confiscation and similar remedies," the Minister proceeded.

The estimates, when presented, would show the Government moving forward in supervision of schools. Upwards of 175 rural school districts were under the administration now in respect to teaching personnel, and further progress would be made in that direction.

MUMBO AND JUMBO

Dr. Weir digressed to answer criticism of modern economics at Canadian universities. Like the behemoth of Holy Writ, the white elephant of mumbo-jumbo—university economics had been raised as a criticism against an unnamed institution. If the University of British Columbia had been intended, he would say that all Canadian universities taught economics, and so presumably were included in the charge of worshipping in the temple of mumbo-jumbo.

He agreed with a recent editorial saying universities must be left free to search out the truth, and present it fearlessly.

NOT RESIGNING

Replying to an Opposition proposal that he resign, on the ground that the Cabinet had not contrived to bring about inception of the policies he had advocated before election, Dr. Weir said he would resign only when convinced that he would be of greater service to the province outside the House than in it.

On assuming office the Government had financed an overdraft of $200,000 on teachers' salary grants, and also increased grants by $209,000 for the current year. The provincial grant to the university had been increased, by $50,000, as had other votes for extension education, physical education, and items to the extent of $50,000 further. The grant to hospitals had been restored by increases of $225,000, and the veterans' wing at Essondale opened at a further cost of $50,000. Some other grants had been made, as well.

INCREASE OF $900,000

"There we have an increase of more than $900,000 in two departments (Education and Provincial Secretary) for the fiscal year. Remembering that we had no cash on hand, and an overdraft at the bank when we assumed office, and no Federal assistance at that time, that is not a bad record. It is not the record of 'opportunism' that we have heard so much about," Dr. Weir declared.

Amendments to schools and hospitals legislation last session had meant $200,000 more to Vancouver. Some $47,698 had been disbursed in free text-books, at a saving to the public of $8,016 through provincial bulk buying. In addition a small vote of $15,000 had been passed for extension education, to carry schooling to men in relief camps, and otherwise; a policy that had been carried out with success, benefiting some 2,500 individuals in many ways.

EDUCATION SURVEY

Dr. Weir said the educational survey report was about ready and awaiting only signature. The report would be available to the House before prorogation. It was difficult to adjust educational financing, in the lack of an equalizing factor for true assessable wealth. Former systems had been based only on nominal assessable wealth. Headway was being made towards a solution of this phase of the issue.

The Minister of Education readvocated renewal of Federal grants to technical education. Some $9,000,000 had been allocated before cessation of the grants to provinces about six years ago. This was service in a national field, and needed more now than ever.

Analyzing what the Province was doing in vocational courses and extension education, Dr. Weir instanced North Vancouver, where he said manual arts, home-making, physical training, mining and mechanical instruction were being given to unemployed men and women through competent instructors with Provincial assistance.

NOT "SNOOPING"

Defending social welfare investigation as sympathetically carried out and necessary, he repudiated the charge of employing "snooping visitors" in supervisional check-ups on mothers' pension cases. Investigation was carried out in cases dealing with mothers' pensions, the destitute and sick, neglected children, unmarried mothers, adoption of infants and on other matters.

A new collection branch and a placement bureau would be added to the welfare service in the coming fiscal year.

There were 1,403 mothers in receipt of Provincial allowances, 550 of whom involved one-child families. Divorcees and deserted mothers brought problems that had to be treated on their individual merits. Every effort was being made to be fair, and there was no justification for the insinuation that social welfare work was being conducted by snooping and prying old maids. A young and able director headed the service and deserved commendation.

"As I have said often before, we could multiply these pensions. We could multiply them sixfold; and I hope when times improve we can do something about it," Dr. Weir continued.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Good progress was being made with health insurance investigations. The Liberal Party would carry out its promises in this regard as soon as it was found possible to do so. Actuarial studies indicated health insurance would be a godsend to the people. In British Columbia some $13,000,000 was being spent annually on health, and better results could be had for the money in a co-ordinated plan.

There was talk now of Federal action on health insurance, and though not persuaded yet as to the genuineness of such proposals, the Provincial Government would wait to see what concrete measure was laid before the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Meanwhile, there were five or six fields in which the provinces should receive Federal co-operation on services of a national scope and nature. These included tubercular care, eradication of social diseases, cancer research and treatment, child welfare, post and pre-natal care, and mental hygiene, including lunacy. In round figures these services cost British Columbia $2,000,000 a year, exclusive of $700,000 per annum for treatment of indigent sick from other provinces.

FEDERAL CONFERENCE

Under the B.N.A. Act, health was a Provincial responsibility, but that might be changed later. He expected that a Federal conference on health matters would be called in three or four months, at which the Province would be represented, Dr. Weir intimated in conclusion.

A. M. Manson, K.C., regretted the length of debate, which had as its main purpose assurance that the Speech from the Throne had been welcome. Better, he said, to eliminate debate, and discuss concrete resolutions as a guidance to government from Parliament, that should remain supreme. For himself, he would reassert the freedom of initiative unfettered by caucus, a leading plank in the Liberal platform.

"A MISALLIANCE"

The Socialist Opposition had not won in North Vancouver, but the Liberal Government had lost in a decisive defeat, due, he would say, to loss of confidence through a misalliance with a certain faction that had forfeited public approval. Many Liberals had voted against the party candidate, in protest, Mr. Manson averred.

Provincial affairs needed overhauling. For five years under a previous regime $12,000,000 a year had been added to the public debt. That debt was still under considerable increase, with only some 250,000 paying taxpayers to provide the funds. Little or no provision for sinking funds was being made, nor was relief accounted for out of current account. The Province was "borrowing and borrowing" and would soon have to call a halt.

REAL WORK, WAGES

The Government policy of "Work and Wages," he would submit, had been misinterpreted. It had never meant the addition of public works and buildings as future liabilities; but a development of the means of access to natural resources, such as mining, lumbering, fisheries and agriculture. Large stands of commercial timber and huge undeveloped assets in mines, awaited only communication by road or otherwise. Here was a clear field for legitimate works, to employ men.

On the basis of British experience, it would require $35,000,000 a year to take care of 20,000 employable idle men in the province. No one with reason could suggest that such sums would be made available. The opening up and development of natural resources were other matters, and there lay the way to productive effort in future. Industrial payrolls were the real solution, and they were the type of work and wages he felt free to support, Mr. Manson declared.

Rural relief and a policy of patching at roads in all districts was mostly waste effort. Maintenance of men in Federal camps at $1.50 each per day in costs was inconceivable, especially in view of the moral and mental disintegration involved.

FOR INDUSTRIES

He could not support a suggested $1,000,000 programme of smooth-surfaced roads talked of for this session. Relatively few miles of roads were ready for surfacing anyway. Money ought to be spent only with a view to development of industries, at the end of the trail.

Mr. Manson agreed that provincial trade was unbalanced, as between the East and West in Canada. The long-continued drain of an unfavorable balance of $76,000,000 a year could not continue forever. There was real merit in the barter proposal advanced by the first member for Victoria, Mr. Johnson, and something should be done about it.

FACING SECESSION

"Ordinarily I am not a secessionist. I know the difficulties in the way of secession. They are many. But, if we are driven to it, we must face the question of secession, and we cannot and will not wait indefinitely for Eastern Canada to come to its senses," Mr. Manson declared.

"A Keystone drill for mining cannot be brought into the country to develop a placer property except upon payment of a toll of 42 per cent. The bargain is not fair. We must have redress. Political rebellion will ensue unless the bargain as between British Columbia and the East is revamped," Mr. Manson concluded.

EDUCATION TO INSURE SAFETY

Automobile Engineers Have Done Their Part but Public Must Help

"All the safety features that the research and engineering departments can devise will be of little avail until the public becomes thoroughly seized with the responsibility which it must share if the terrible toll of accidents is to be eliminated," said G. J. Monahan, sales manager, The Canadian Raybestos Company, Limited, yesterday.

"The whole question is one of education," he said. "The automobile companies are doing their part after spending tremendous sums in research. The manufacturers of brakes and brake linings have kept pace and are constantly proving and testing with the sole object of maximum safety margin at the disposal of the car operator."

SPEED QUESTON

Asked if he advocated greater or lesser speed restriction, Mr. Monahan said that he would not attempt to advise one or the other, but gave it as his personal opinion that it was proper driving that counted far more than restrictions or legislation. "There are many times when even twenty miles an hour is unsafe, while under other circumstances sixty miles an hour might be perfectly safe," he said.

He pointed out that the driver who passes another car on a hill always takes an unnecessary risk, and stated that those who find themselves unable to judge the speed and distance of an oncoming car should exercise special care in passing another car on a crowded highway.

SAFETY COMMITTEE

Mr. Monahan referred to the programme recommended by the committee on traffic safety, appointed by the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, composed of Chief Constable Joliat, of Ottawa (chairman); Chief Constable D. C. Draper, Toronto; Deputy Chief Barnes, Montreal, and Inspector Grant, of the Ontario Provincial Police. The recommendations of this committee included the inspection of all motor vehicles for dangerous defects at least once a year, and of all second-hand vehicles before the transfer of the licence. Also periodic examination of drivers whose fitness to operate a motor vehicle may have become impaired.

CONDUCT CLINICS

So far as his company is concerned, Mr. Monahan stated that it was now conducting its annual series of clinics for the benefit of mechanics and others engaged in the automobile business. These will be held in every important centre in Canada for the purpose of imparting to the trade the very latest information on brakes, clutch rebuilding and equipment. The clinic includes a new sound picture specially prepared and enacted by professionals. Those accompanying Mr. Monahan include W. S. Cowell, service engineer; R. E. McGuire, representing the United Steel Corporation, and D. S. Pocock, Western district manager.

Mr. Monahan conducted a trade clinic at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday night, with sound pictures.

SOROPTIMISTS ASKED TO HELP

T. H. Eslick and Miss Alma Russell Address Business Women's Organization

The potentialities of women as a driving and energizing force to the tourist development movement was emphasized by T. H. Eslick, general secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association, in the address that he gave at the meeting of the Soroptimist Club held at the clubrooms, Metropolitan Building, last evening.

Presided over by Mrs. Florence Mutrie, vice-president, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Dorothy Spurr, the meeting attracted a good representation of members. In addition to the address by Mr. Eslick, there was a ten-minute talk by Miss Alma Russell, late assistant librarian and archivist at the Provincial Library, who gave a highly-instructive address on classification as related to library work.

TEACH THE CHILDREN

In connection with his appeal to the Soroptimists to give their cooperation in the five-year tourist trade development plan on which his organization is concentrating, Mr. Eslick particularly indicated how the women could help to break down the characteristic Vancouver Island apathy about its own attractions. They could give immeasurable help in many small and more important ways. For one thing, they could teach the children of Vancouver Island the value of courtesy and friendliness, and thus help to cultivate the Island's reputation as a friendly island.

"If every woman present would make a convert a day for the next month to this movement, the aims and purposes of our organization would be rapidly advanced," said Mr. Eslick, who reminded the members that the slogan of the society was "It Is Your Island—Develop It." That was a challenge to every woman as well as to every man. History showed that every great call for the betterment of the world had been answered by women first: Boadicea, Katherine the Great of Russia, Elizabeth of England, Joan of Arc, Florence Nightingale, Mrs. Pankhurst, Jane Addams, Helen Keller and others being cited as examples of this spirit.

Figures were quoted to show the economic value of the tourist to Victoria and Vancouver Island even at the present time, and it was hoped to treble this in five years' time.

A very clear distinction was shown by Miss Russell between a public library, a purely reference library, and a legislative reference library. She traced the different processes through which a book travels from the time it is received until it goes on the shelves, ready for use. The duties of a librarian were also roughly outlined.

The ability to answer questions was not, said the speaker, so much a matter of actual knowledge of that subject as the ability to know where to look in the library for the reply. In this connection the catalogue was of great importance.

The tremendous value of the Northwest history department of the Provincial Library was touched upon, with reference to the number of school children and other visitors who are taken through the library. An important part of the collection is the papers, some 1,100 of which are parliamentary papers.

A brief history of the library was also given, starting with its pioneer beginnings as a legislative library, for the use of the members of the Legislature only, and carrying right down to the present time, when the shelves provide a mass of priceless information for students and historians from all parts of the world. Complete files of all newspapers in the province were also kept.

Reddy's Forlorn Chance

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

This saying is both true and terse. There's nothing bad but might be worse.

If anyone had said this to Reddy Fox during the first half hour after he discovered that he was a prisoner in Farmer Brown's henyard, he wouldn't have believed it. He would have said that he couldn't possibly have been worse off than he was.

He was a prisoner and he couldn't possibly get out. That is to say, he couldn't possibly get free. He knew that in the morning Farmer Brown's Boy would certainly discover him. It couldn't be otherwise; that is, it couldn't be otherwise as long as he remained in that chickenyard. There wasn't a thing, not one solitary thing under or behind which he could hide. So, to Reddy's way of thinking, things couldn't possibly have been worse.

But after a while, having nothing else to do, Reddy began to think. Now, it is surprising how thinking will change matters. One of the first thoughts that came to Reddy was that he might have been caught in a trap. One of those cruel traps that close like a pair of jaws and sometimes break the bones of the foot or leg and from which there is no escape. Right away Reddy realized that to have been so caught would have been much worse than being a prisoner in Farmer Brown's henyard. This made him feel a wee, wee bit better and he began to do some more thinking.

For a long time his thinking didn't help him in the least. At last, however, he remembered the chicken dinner he had felt so sure he was going to enjoy. The thought of the chicken dinner reminded him that inside the henhouse it was dark. He had been inside that henhouse before, and he knew that there were boxes in there. If he were inside the henhouse it might be, it just might possibly be, that he could hide when Farmer Brown's Boy came in the morning.

He got his claws in the little crack and pulled and pulled.

So once more Reddy went to work at that little sliding door where the hens run in and out during the day. He already found out that it wasn't fastened, and he felt sure that with patience he could open it. So he worked away until at last there was a little crack. He got his claws in the little crack and pulled and pulled. The little crack became a little wider. By and by it was wide enough for him to get his whole paw in. Then it became wide enough for him to get his head half in. After this all he had to do was to force himself through, for as he pushed and shoved the little door opened. He was inside at last. There was a chance, just a forlorn chance, that he might be able to escape the notice of Farmer Brown's Boy in the morning.

"IDLE MONEY"

How much dependence can be placed upon the statement frequently made to the effect that there is a great deal of idle money lying in the banks, and kept there, according to the same rumor, by those in control of it in order to create an artificial condition of scarcity. If evil-minded bankers deliberately pursue this policy whenever they see fit it is really time that the public should know about it.

Most people are aware, of course, that in order to carry on a banking business it is convenient and indeed necessary for the banker to keep on hand a reasonable amount of ready money, and a little reflection will soon show that this sum must bear some fairly definite relation to the total amount loaned to him by his depositors. He must have enough cash to carry on the usual daily business of the bank, and this means that he must always be in a position to meet any likely calls for repayment to depositors who happen to want some or all of their money. In practice it has been found by recorded banking experience that as a general thing it is prudent to retain in cash about 10 per cent of the amount placed upon deposit.

The task of the banker is to find safe and profitable investment for the remaining 90 per cent of the money entrusted to him; safe because he is responsible to his depositors for the safety of the principal sum, and also profitable enough to enable him to pay 2 or 3 per cent interest to the depositor with a savings account. Also there are such things to be provided for as taxes to pay upon, or rent for, his premises, salaries, wages, necessary expenses, a dividend for the shareholders, a reasonable living for himself.

The 10 per cent spoken of is apparently the only "idle" money to be found in the banks. If the amount of money taken in on deposit is small, 10 per cent of it will not amount to very much. If deposits increase greatly the "idle" money must also increase, because it is absolutely necessary that the banker should be in a position to meet the demands of depositors at all times. Strong, or at any rate quite loud, objections have been made to the policy of the bankers in keeping any "idle" money whatever on hand, but most people are apt to suspect that these objections are not made by the depositors. The depositors, after all is said and done, are the real and rightful owners of the money in question. It is sometimes asserted that this "idle" money "belongs to the people," a convenient and telling phrase when skilfully used by the agitator, but rather misleading. In point of fact it belongs to the depositors, and the latter are well aware that it is quite necessary for the banker to keep on hand sufficient funds to meet the requirements of the depositors. If those persons who dislike the prudent policy of the bankers and denounce them for keeping ready cash on hand were to find themselves in the position of depositors to the extent of a few modest hundreds of dollars, they would presently learn to modify their views upon "idle" money.

If ordinary prudence impels the banker to hold in his till, ready for possible calls upon him, 10 per cent of the money deposited in his care, imperious necessity declares that he shall lend as much as he can safely and conveniently invest of the remaining 90 per cent. The banker has every motive to lend money on safe security and, within the limits mentioned above, no motive whatever to refuse a reasonable loan to a safe and sound borrower. Having these considerations in view, it is tolerably clear that in "hard" times it is not so much the banker who declines to lend as it is the timid business man, the cautious contractor, the prudent trader, who declines to borrow on account of a certain lack of confidence in the soundness of any but the most conservative of new enterprises and ventures.

SOCIALISTIC DIALECTICS

Moscow is a place where a collection of the correspondence of Marx and Engels has been made. A selection has been published and no fewer than eighty-eight of these belong to 1860 to 1870, when Marx was completing and publishing his first volume of "Das Kapital." The book is especially designed to appeal to illiterate readers, because where Latin and French phrases are employed, the translations are given. The correspondence throws no new light on the Marxian theories, but gives an inkling of the personality and mentality of the writers, which are similiar, and recognized as such by the Russians who have bracketed them together. Engels was perhaps the only man with whom Marx remained on terms of cordial friendship throughout his life. The narrow-mindedness of both of them is well illustrated by their correspondence, and Socialists ever since have employed language similar to that used in the letters. A reviewer of the book writing in The London Times says:

"A prominent feature of the letters is the sublime confidence of the writers in their own wisdom and judgment. They, and they alone, understand everything that is going on in the political world, not only in Europe and in countries known to them, but in America, India and China. And their self-confidence is equaled by the contemptuous criticism bestowed on the men who were doing, or at least trying to do, some real work. Not only Bismarck, Thiers, Napoleon and Kaiser Wilhelm I, but Gladstone, Disraeli, Bright, Cobden, Lincoln, Mazzini, Kossuth and others are the object of disparagement and vilification. 'Asses,' 'swine,' 'scoundreis,' 'rogues' and 'blackguards' are terms that occur frequently, with other more objectionable words euphemistically described as 'German slang.' In this flood of detraction the other leaders of the movement, —Proudhon, Lassalle, Bakunin, and the rest— are not spared, of course; there is something wrong about each and all of them. They are opportunists or careerists or plagiarists (if they agree with Marx) or petty bourgeois and helplessly mistaken (if they disagree). It is amusing to find Marx accusing Henry George of 'the repulsive presumption and arrogance which is displayed by all panacea-mongers without exception'—the very charge brought against Marx himself by several of his comrades. As for the economists they fare very badly; even members of the classical school, such as Adam Smith and Ricardo, are put in their place, while the wretched bourgeois who followed them are beneath contempt. No one escapes. Compte is guilty of 'positive rot'; Ranke is a 'bouncing little root—rubber'; even Darwin cannot be mentioned without disparagement, for his book, though 'very important,' is 'developed in the crude English style.' The leader in the campaign was Marx, for though Engels played up to him for years, there is marked difference in the letters he wrote after Marx's death; personal criticism is generally absent among much shrewd comment on public affairs."

FEAR OF FAMINE

Humanitarians have a habit of engaging in their creed irrespective of political and social interests. That is the case now in connection with different relief bodies which are preparing to give what aid is possible in the event of the anticipated famine developing in Russia. The organizations in question are the Interconfessional and International Relief Committee for the famine areas in the Soviet Union, the Interconfessional and International Russian Relief Committee and the Jewish Relief Committee for Russia. These bodies have jointly issued an appeal indicating their conviction, from the information they have, that the Russian population is again in imminent danger of famine.

The information comes from unimpeachable eyewitnesses who testify to distress in various parts of the Soviet Union. Even Russian sources of news make no secret of the fact that a large part of the population in the famine areas has been deprived of its reserves and is at the mercy of famine. Pro-Soviet foreigners who have traveled through the country admit that the harvest is extremely poor, and there are places where the yield amounts to nil. Moreover, the crop has been collected by the Soviet taskmasters with a severity hitherto unknown. It was that severity which made it possible to abolish bread cards in the towns. The beneficiaries of the harvest are the Army, the industrial population and various privileged persons in the towns. To make this possible the very existence of the agrarian population has been threatened.

The Soviet Government admits the gravity of the situation, and in a decree alluding to the supply of seed grain, points to the "elementary need" existing in a number of the agrarian districts as a result of the drought. The object of the relief organizations is to prevent, during the coming Spring, the repetition of events such as occurred in 1933, when vast numbers of "innocent persons" perished in the Ukraine, the Volga districts, the Northern Caucasia and elsewhere.

THE KING

By birth or by training, by innate gift or by abundant experience, King George V has achieved spiritual maturity. The process may not matter, but it happens that the result is an endowment of the whole world. Americans gladly salute the good neighbor whose unpretending genius is a present asset in an earth in which civilization requires friends.

How different it might be if this royal gentleman were a less rational person! Again and again in recent years the international apple cart might have been overturned had he indulged in political experimentation or engaged in frothy adventures of conquest. It is difficult to imagine him rattling sabres or talking of a military partnership with the deity. Monarchs, like humbler individuals, act within the limits of a psychological mould, and the temperament of King George is mannerly and just, considerate and merciful.

Soon he will celebrate his jubilee, and the people of the United States, it may be expected, will find ways to signify to him at that time their appreciation and their gratitude. The English-speaking nations never may be embraced in a single union, but the ties which bind them in independent friendship are growing stronger, and King George is entitled to much of the credit in the circumstances.—Washington Star.

Every man has just as much vanity as he wants understanding.—Pope.

Each succeeding day is the scholar of that which went before it.—Publius Syrus.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.,

If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.—St. Matthew.

You think they are crusaders, sent
From some infernal clime,
To pluck the eyes of sentiment,
And dock the tail of rhyme,
To crack the voice of melody
And break the legs of time.
—Holmes.

In olden times, when the world was not so enlightened as it is assumed to be in these modern times, crusades were organized and equipped for the purpose of driving the heathen out of the Holy Land. The original crusaders were nominally Christians, but we sometimes suspect, after reading the history of one of the most fascinating of all movements, that the leaders in the crusades were more interested in having a good fight than they were in the principles of the young Christian religion; that like some modern crusaders the ancient crusaders were no better informed than they should have been about the principles of the cause they advocated and for which they fought.

Be those things as they may, the fact seems clear that as long as the world revolves and there are people on the face of the revolving earth we shall be blessed (or the other thing) with crusaders. There is a momentous crusade proceeding in the United States, and there is one valiant crusader in British Columbia. We may laugh at Gerry McGeer, but we cannot ignore him. Gerry had the floor yesterday in the Provincial Legislature, and there were crowded galleries to hear him. Wherever he goes the people flock to listen to him, whether in the hope of being entertained or instructed we do not know. Blackthorn in one hand and the Sacred Scriptures in the other, this modern crusader is going to drive the usurers and money changers out of the temple of our modern political and economic edifice.

Crusaders are never noted for their consistency—but then it is said that any leader who is uniformly consistent and cannot change his mind when circumstances demand a change is not worthy of leadership. Gerry says money is a curse, and after he has recovered his breath with the vehemence of his denunciation of the root of all evil, he declares that what Canada needs is more money, that the Government has the power to make money and should use that power. There are presses in the Government printing office and there is the mint which will shortly be turning out silver dollars. Why hesitate when the road to affluence and prosperity is so short and without a single corner? Why do all the nations hesitate when the truth as stated by our provincial leader and crusader is as plain as the nose upon Mr. McGeer's bonnie Irish face? If wealth and prosperity can be created almost in the twinkling of an eye, the leaders of the nations must be blind when they stand idle and supine with opportunity knocking loudly at the door.

Take the case of the United States, the richest country in the world in natural resources and the country in the world in which money is most plentiful. By a process of inflation the United States has reduced the value of the dollar and multiplied the number of dollars in circulation. We are told by a qualified authority that there is money in the United States the people either cannot use or refuse to use because they do not know what to do with it; that there are billions lying in the banks waiting to be placed in circulation, but cannot be circulated because the channels of trade are dry.

The British Columbia crusader will say there is a reason for that peculiar situation. The American money surplus is in the hands of usurers who demand their interest or their pound of flesh. If the Canadian Government were to print and mint more money and distribute it free to all, our currency would be debased of all value and not worth the cost of its production. There are standards of values in money as well as in products. The value of money is determined by its purchasing power; it cannot be fixed by arbitrary decree of banks or governments. The ultimate factors are credit and confidence. Gerry McGeer's royal road to prosperity is a byway, not a highway. It is not new. It has been tried in other nations, producing economic chaos. Germany walked in it after the war for a short time, and ruined both her social and international credit. France went up the byway for a short distance and was forced to turn back. President Roosevelt is engaged in a crusade, and thus far has found the road rough, the going hard and progress slow. But the times are favorable for the production of crusaders who dream vain dreams and of credulous people who will listen to them gladly. If Gerry McGeer were not obviously sincere—at least within the limits of his understanding of the fundamentals of business—we might be tempted to describe him as a charlatan. Anyhow, the provincial field is too narrow for his ambitions and his policies. Trade and commerce and currencies are matters to be determined by the Dominion Government. The new crusade should have Ottawa as its base.

THE UNLUCKY TAXPAYER

Sir,—In R. B. D's. column on Wednesday morning he states as follows: "It is somewhat incomprehensible that our public men cannot understand that the high cost of government, from the lowest forms to the highest, is sucking the life blood out of business and sapping the vitality of the individual, and that recovery from the depression depends upon reductions in the cost of government and decrease of taxation." So far, so good. But what a glaring contrast to this is noted in the same day's issue of the evening paper regarding pension costs. Figures are given showing that it cost $14,830 to administer $801,697 in pensions in the year 1930, whereas (note this carefully) in the year 1934 it cost $24,621 to administer $593,070 in pensions. In other words it cost $10,000 more to administer over $200,000 less.

A little salve is explained by the minister to the effect that this same department had to cover a few other administrations, and thus try to make the public believe that the extra cost of $10,000 is justifiable. Is it not about time that our Government members took to heart Mr. Anscomb's oft-repeated advice that the sooner they cut expenses to the bone and then scrape the bone, the better it will be for the Province. It is reasonable to surmise that the same lavish expenses in the administration of other departments is still going on to the gain of party workers who get lucrative jobs, but to the disadvantage and loss of the unlucky taxpayer.

LIBRARY PESTS

Sir,—There is a species of pest that infests public libraries everywhere, but is particularly prevalent and virulent in Victoria, namely, the vermin who mark and deface books in public libraries. In the Victoria Carnegie Library it is almost impossible to pick up a volume devoted to any serious subject without finding their traces on nearly every page. The main motive actuating them must be a colossal conceit combined with an intellect just sufficient to allow them to dimly comprehend the matter they read.

The works devoted to the newer aspects of science, relativity, etc., seem particularly the object of their attention, for instance, books such as Sir James Jeans' "Mysterious Universe" or Langdon Davies' "Man and His Universe," to mention a couple out of many. Books beautifully written in the clearest and simplest language so that we who are totally ignorant of and unable to comprehend the mathematics and intricate process of reasoning, and the immense intellectual labor of the master minds who brought them into being, can yet clearly understand and grasp the findings and conclusions of their authors. In these, where there is any striking sentence or paragraph that involves a little extra thought, there will be found the pencil mark of the beast.

There are various ways in which these individuals manifest their talents. Some content themselves with pencil marks. Others more confident or conceited annotate or elaborate on the text. A favorite trick is to carefully correct any typographical errors of omission or commission which, of course, would be quite apparent to an elementary school child.

It is interesting to speculate on the mental processes and motives back of this vice. Probably something like this: "Ah, ha! Here is something that the half-wits who will undoubtedly dip into this after me will overlook if a superior mind such as mine does not bring it to their attention. I must get busy." And forthwith, out comes the pencil, and the underlining, scoring and general disfiguring takes place.

And the perpetrator, feeling that he also is one with the immortals, and is on the same intellectual plane as his author, strikes the stars with his sublime head as he steps out onto Yates Street, and, it is to be hoped, into the direct path of an auto going fifty miles an hour.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of February 23, 1885).

Steam Laundry—J. W. Martin and his wife, who are experienced in the laundry business, have assumed the management of the new steam laundry on the Esquimalt Road, and work will now be done in a superior manner.

New Building—M. Humber has secured the contract for the erection of the brick block on the southeast corner of Government and Yates Streets.

New Theatre—The ground for the new theatre has been enclosed with a high board fence and a sidewalk laid out. It is a sensible idea and one that contractors of large buildings should generally follow. Work of clearing rubbish and excavating for the foundation was commenced yesterday and will be expeditiously rushed.

A Comet—Quite a large comet was visible last night towards the north in the early evening sky. Although on Sunday night the atmosphere was quite clear, it could be made out only faintly. The tail appeared to point to the horizon.

CHURCH MEETING HELD AT GANGES

SALTSPRING ISLAND, Feb. 21.—A congregational meeting of the United Church was held recently at the Mahon Hall, Ganges, Rev. E. J. Thompson presiding. Reports were presented by the secretary-treasurer, W. M. Mouat; Mrs. E. Parsons, representing the Ladies Aid; E. Parsons, from the Sunday school, and from Colin Mouat, from the Trail Rangers.

The following were elected on the board of stewards: Mrs. J. Mouat, Dr. E. H. Lawson, Dr. R. Rush, E. Parsons, S. Newman Hassel, D. Wintrup; secretary-treasurer W. M. Mouat; members to the session, Miss Lees, S. Newman Hassel and E. Parsons. At the conclusion of the business meeting, seventy-five persons sat down to the supper provided by the Ladies' Aid. Following supper, there was community singing.

"Good Day, Mr. Pepys"

By MARGARET MACLURE

February 23 is the 302nd anniversary of the birth of Samuel Pepys, that exuberant lover of life who has become so vital a figure in our literary history.

Had he never written his famous "Diary," his name would probably have come down to us as a distinguished public official who rendered valuable service to the British Navy. But, with the discovery of that amazing book which lay in obscurity until 120 years after his death, Pepys' real fame began. It has grown steadily ever since, and a whole library of literature has sprung up round the figure of the man who in his time was termed "The Right Hand of the Navy." The result is that we know today, more intimately than any figure of the past, the light-hearted, irrepressible, and many-sided Mr. Samuel Pepys.

Apparently we are not yet at the end of our knowledge, for a recent report from London says that two additional Diaries have been found in the Pepys Library at Magdalen College, Cambridge.

John Drinkwater, in his book on Pepys, predicted that such a thing might happen. He claims that in the Diary as we know it, the first entry does not read like a beginning, and that in the last one Pepys definitely states that although bad eyesight makes it impossible for him to continue as herctofore, he is resolved "from this time forward, to dictate to someone else." He was then only thirty-seven, and the most important years of his life were to follow.

SELF-REVEALING PAGES

The frank and self-revealing pages of that daily journal were certainly never intended to be read by any of Samuel's contemporaries, and, to guard this secrecy he invented a form of writing in cipher which was based upon the shorthand system of his day. The manuscript filled six calf-bound volumes, and after Pepys' death these were included in the collection of some 3,000 valuable books which he had bequeathed to his old college at Cambridge.

There it remained unnoticed until 1819. John Evelyn's Diary had just been published and the mention of Pepys' name in it attracted the attention of George Grenville, Master of Magdalene College. Having seen how valuable Evelyn's diary was going to be to historians, the idea came to him that perhaps these six mysterious volumes might hold equally interesting information. So he showed them to his cousin, Lord Grenville, who was then Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

This man knew something about ciphers. He was able to translate a little of the Diary, after much labor, but that little showed him that here lay a most valuable and unique human document.

There happened to be among the undergraduates a bright young man, John Smith, who had once been a reporter of news. He was a shorthand expert and also had considerable knowledge of cipher. So, to him, was entrusted the work of "decoding" the precious Diary, and it took well over three years to do so.

Later on, when Smith became Vicar of Baldock, he wrote a detailed account of the stupendous task, which he obviously undertook in a spirit of martyrdom. Had he only known it, there was near at hand in the library a definite "key" to the cipher—"A Narrative of Charles the Second's Escape From Worcester." This was jotted down in cipher, but had an accompanying translation in longhand.

Pepys was a round-faced, cheerful-looking, sturdy little man. He had the artistic temperament to a high degree, and it ran riot where female beauty was concerned. Judging by the artless, and often penitent, confessions of the Diary, he seems to have collected more kisses than any man in history!

It is safe, however, to assume that he never kissed a homely woman. He must have sorely tried the patience of his young French wife. No wonder "she was often as mad as a devil," and once even threatened the gay philanderer with a pair of red-hot tongs. Jealousy was undoubtedly the cause of their many bitter quarrels.

This phase of Pepys' character has too often been held up to ridicule, and people who only know the Diary by an occasional quotation are apt to regard it as a mere citation of scandalous behaviour. But it is much more than that. It shows us as in a magic glass all the heart-aching and tragic happenings of that period of history. During the terror-stricken days when the Plague was at its worst, Pepys stuck to his post at the Admiralty while all who could were fleeing from London. This should be remembered rather than the fact that he was inordinately fond of fine clothes. He was a good musician, played several instruments, and delighted in singing.

Mrs. Pepys' attempts to sing must have been a sad trial to him, for she could never keep in tune. After a singing lesson, he confides to his Diary: "Poor wretch, her ear is so bad it makes me angry, till the poor wretch cried to see me so vexed."

John Evelyn, Sir Christopher Wren and the poet Dryden were among the intimate friends of Pepys' later years. The place he held in their regard can be seen by an entry in Evelyn's diary. It was written on the day that Samuel Pepys left a world in which it may truly be said, he never experienced a moment of boredom.

—"May 25, 1703—He was universally beloved, hospitable, generous, learned in many things, skilled in music—a very great cherisher of learned men of whom he had the conversation. Mr. Pepys has been for forty years so very much my particular friend that Mr. Jackson sent me complete mourning, desiring me to be one to hold up the pass at his magnificent obsequies."

TO HONOR CHIEF SCOUT IN CITY

Lord Baden-Powell to Be Here on April 9—Jamboree Planned April 13

With some 3,000 Boy Scouts of Vancouver Island expected to participate, a huge Vancouver Island Scout jamboree will be held here on April 13, four days after Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, and Lady Baden-Powell arrive in this city. The jamboree will be held in his honor.

Although previously announced that Lord Baden-Powell would not stop in Victoria, word was received here last night that he would be in this city on April 9.

The Chief Scout and Lady Baden-Powell have booked passage from Australia to San Francisco and will be honored at a rally of Scouts of California there.

Following this, they will journey to Seattle, where another rally will be held.

The Chief Scout and Lady Baden-Powell will then visit Victoria. He is scheduled to leave Victoria on April 14.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

ALAS! POOR TSITSER

One learns new words in this bridge language every day. An important bit of Americana cropped up the other afternoon at a table where a gallery of kibitzers were massed three deep. There was a high-powered rubber game going on and an orgy of bidding had suddenly precipitated a violent dispute.

The kibitzers joined the players in taking sides on the issue, until bedlam broke loose. Gradually, the consensus of opinion veered around to favor one player, and just as the matter appeared to be settled a voice from the outskirts of the crowd was raised in favor of the culprit.

Players and kibitzers alike glared at the interloper in dead silence. Then one of the contestants said, in a withering tone, "Your opinion is not called for. You're merely a tsitser."

A tsitser! That was new. And upon further investigation we learned that:

A kibitzer is one who has asked and received permission to watch. He may participate in discussion with the players.

A dorbitzer is one who has asked and received permission of the kibitzers to join them. He may speak to the latter but not the players.

A tsitser is one who has asked permission of no one. His rights are restricted to hovering in the background and expressing himself by saying "Ts! ts! ts!"

PLACING WHERE WANTED

A sound rule for declarer to follow when in a tough spot is to play the hands as though the cards were where he would want them to be.

North, dealer.

	♠ K 9 ♥ 9 7 ♦ K 9 8 4 3 ♣ A K J 6
♠ Q 8 5 4 ♥ J 10 2 ♦ A Q 6 2 ♣ 8 7	N W E S	♠ J 7 6 ♥ K Q 8 4 3 ♦ 10 7 ♣ 9 3 2
	♠ A 10 3 2 ♥ A 6 5 ♦ J 5 ♣ Q 10 5 4

The bidding. Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	1 ♥ (1)	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT (2)	Pass	Pass	Dbl. (3)
Pass	Pass	Pass

1. A flimsy overcall.

2. At rubber bridge there is not much point in stopping at two no trump when it seems likely there will be some play for three no trump.

3. West cannot tell that his partner's overcall is thoroughly unsound. The double is not a bad bet if East has the values his bid announces.

THE PLAY

West opened the jack of hearts and continued the suit, declarer taking the third round. Four club tricks were next taken, on the last of which West released a diamond and East a low heart. Declarer needed two diamond tricks to make contract, since any attempt to set up an extra spade trick would be foredoomed to failure. There was no way to prevent East from getting in if he held either the queen or ace of diamonds, but (since he probably held two diamonds) he could be shut out if one were the ten-spot. Declarer therefore led the jack of diamonds and when West brilliantly put up the queen, that card was permitted to hold. West intended to force out the king and thus make the ten in his partner's hand an entry, it being obvious that the hand could not be defeated unless his partner did hold the ten. But declarer had also considered this possibility, and by permitting the queen to hold, assured the making of a very "touchy" hand.

TOMORROW'S HAND

Neither side vulnerable.
North-South part score, 60.
East-West part-score, 30.

	♠ K 6 3 ♥ 5 ♦ 8 7 4 2 ♣ A 10 7 5 2
♠ 10 7 5 2 ♥ A K J 7 3 2 ♦ 9 ♣ Q 9	N W E S	♠ Q J 9 ♥ 10 9 4 ♦ Q J 10 ♣ K J 8 4
	♠ A 8 4 ♥ Q 8 6 ♦ A K 6 5 3 ♣ 6 3

Supports Highway To the Far North

Supporting the proposed British Columbia-Alaska highway as a means of developing the mineral areas in the northern part of the province and as a transport system for products from the natural resources of the Interior, E. T. Kenney, M.P.P. for Skeena, addressed a meeting of the Victoria West Liberal Club Thursday night.

Mr. Kenney also spoke of the exportation of hemlock from the province and the possibility of this new industry becoming an important one in the future.

Other speakers during the evening were Major S. Henson, W. H. Kinsman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, and George A. Renton, president of the club.

It was announced that W. J. Asselstine, M.P.P. for Atlin, would be the club's next speaker.

VICTORIA STATION NOT TO BE CONNECTED WITH NATIONAL RADIO HOOKUP

Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, in a letter to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, stated there was little likelihood of servicing the Victoria radio station with the commission programmes as a special cable to carry the broadcasts would have to be constructed across the Gulf of Georgia.

Improvements to Station CRCV, at Vancouver, were anticipated by the commission, however, Mr. Charlesworth explained. Such improvements were expected to help the reception on Vancouver Island of this station.

Plans Made for Accommodating More Tourists

On one of his periodical inspection tours, A. E. Robertson, Winnipeg, assistant general manager, Canadian Pacific Hotels, arrived in Victoria yesterday and spoke optimistically of prospects for the coming tourist trade. He added that the holiday resorts in the Rockies, Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise, were being prepared to accommodate even larger numbers of guests than were entertained last year.

That Victoria and Vancouver will benefit substantially by the tourist flow is a foregone conclusion, according to the C.P.R., hotel official.

"William!" called a young wife. "William, come here quick!"

Thinking that some danger assailed her, William grasped a stick and rushed up two flights of stairs to her assistance. He entered the room breathlessly and found her looking out of the window.

"See!" said she. "That's the kind of hat I want you to get me!"

STATES SYSTEM IS BOUND TO GO

Mayor G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P.P., Speaks Before Real Estate Board

"The sooner that businessmen stop looking on money as a mysterious and funny thing and deal with it as a tool of trade, the sooner we will make a move to emancipate and free us from interest-bearing debt," declared Mayor G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P.P., in addressing a large meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board yesterday at noon, in Spencer's dining-room.

"I have no hesistation in saying that under the present system, capitalism and municipal governments cannot survive," the speaker said, in opening his remarks. Such are the circumstances that have developed out of false theories and impossible plans, Mr. McGeer added.

Speaking on the subject of "Municipal Bankruptcy," Mr. McGeer reviewed conditions in Vancouver and spoke of the situation as he found it there on taking office. He said the Mainland city faced definite bankruptcy in 1935.

HONORABLE COURSE

Vancouver took the honorable course of declaring the true facts, laying these before the bondholders, and asserting it could not pay its obligations under present conditions, the Vancouver mayor contended. There was no intention of repudiating, he added.

Tax sales in the Mainland city, Mr. McGeer said, had been passed up under a former civic administration. When governments played with the foundations of civic government they must stand prepared to remedy the chaos they created, he asserted.

"The day of speculation on real estate has been wiped out in Western Canada," Mr. McGeer declared. He stated that in future taxes must be levied on the rental value of houses and land for business purposes.

"Are we wise to keep on hoping to collect taxes in excess of gross revenue of the land?" the speaker asked. He said he was annoyed with the docility with which real estate owners in the past have lost their property with a smile.

"In Vancouver we cannot go ahead with public works programmes, and we cannot afford to maintain police organizations, school board and other social services, Mr. McGeer continued.

CREATE MONEY

Declaring that usury should be immediately done away with, Mr. McGeer claimed governments should assert their right to create money in order that the people of Canada would have their share of the abundance of goods already available.

Only by a closer bond between the Federal, Provincial and municipal Governments and the creation of money to take care of Federal, Provincial, municipal services and social services, could the situation as it stands today be solved, he contended.

Mr. McGeer, before closing, spoke briefly of the systems now under way in Japan, Russia and Great Britain, saying that in these countries needs of the people and the times were realized and radical changes had taken place.

B.C. Income Tax Returns Due in Few Days' Time

TO assist members of the public otherwise engaged during the day, the office of the Provincial Assessor will remain open until 9 o'clock nightly from Monday to Thursday next week, so that provincial income tax returns may be filed. The office is in the wooden annex at the northwest corner of Superior and Government Streets. Two classes of returns are due on or before February 28, one by employers, and the other by every person in receipt of salary, wages or investment income.

Auditorium Matter Not Settled Yet

At the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon the estimates from the school board were submitted for the purpose of carrying into effect the levy for the year.

The ordinary estimates were $450,650 as submitted, while there was an extraordinary sum set out under that heading at $6,000, which was required for the erection of an auditorium at the Oaklands School.

The council decided to notify the school board that while they were in accord with the necessity for such an improvement at the Oaklands School, the amount would not be approved of until the council had had the opportunity of going into the estimates for the year more fully.

If it were possible to allow for this being done, the council would approve the estimate. In the meantime, the estimates committee will bear the item in consideration.

Reunion Dinner Of Western Scots Set for March 23

The annual reunion dinner of the 67th Battalion "Western Scots" will be held on Saturday, March 23, at 7:45 p.m. in Spencer's dining-room.

It will mark the twentieth anniversary of the departure of the battalion from Victoria for overseas. The contingent embarked here on March 24, 1915. Annual dinners have been held since 1920.

While the ranks are fast thinning out, still it is expected that there will be a good representation of members from Victoria, the Mainland, Up-Island points, Seattle and Portland.

Major S. H. Okell has been appointed in charge of arrangements in Victoria. Vancouver and Mainland activities will be in charge of Robert Macnicol. E. R. Wilson has been named in charge of Nanaimo attendance. G. A. Gatus, Chemainus, and Alex Ronald, Seattle.

GAY PICTURE IS AT THE CAPITOL

Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler Co-Starred in Brilliant Musical "Flirtation Walk"

Generations of West Point graduates are likely to get a wave of nostalgia when they see "Flirtation Walk," the new First National musical romance which comes to the Capitol Theatre today, with Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Pat O'Brien in the stellar roles.

This new picture presents the "Kissing Rock" which is to be found on the bona fide Flirtation Walk, overlooking the Hudson River. The "Kissing Rock," according to West Point tradition, is the Nemesis of all prim maids, and will fall on and crush any girl who will not allow herself to be kissed by an ardent cadet. As the rock is still standing, it would seem that it has never had occasion to fall!

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Dick Powell in "Flirtation Walk."

Columbia—"Samarang," an adventure story.

Dominion—Claudette Colbert in "The Gilded Lily."

Playhouse—"Lazy River," featuring Jean Parker.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Samarang," a B. F. Zeidman production released by United Artists, and now showing at the Columbia Theatre, introduces a screen Adonis who is confidently expected to push the Weissmullers and the Crabbes into the background. He is Ahmang, hero of a love story too overwhelming for words, and the idol of all the pearl divers throughout the vast expanse of the Indian Ocean.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE "Aquatic extras" by hundreds have made their first screen appearance. These are the Cajuns, or natives of the bayous country in Louisiana, who appear in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's drama, "Lazy River," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. This country, seat of the shrimp industry, is entirely under water. Houses and walks are built on stilts or poles. Daily the extras came from villages scattered through Barataria Bay and its tributaries in launches and rowboats.

Jane Dixon Says:

BEWARE OF YOUNG MAN WHO TALKS DISPARAGINGLY

Our weekly budget of miscellaneous inquiries is at hand and we shall proceed to do the best we can with them.

We are going to consider everything from love to a pot o' tea and take a trip to California in the bargain.

Dear Miss Dixon: I love a young man, but am not sure he cares for me. He went with another girl, but stopped because her parents objected to him. I believe she still cares for him and that he cares for her. He has spoken very badly of her, yet I know he sees her.

My parents do not allow me to go with boys, but I often go to his home with him and he comes to mine. He has told me he loves me, but I have never admitted my love for him. Should I tell him. I don't think it would make any difference, he'd see the other girl just the same. Some of my friends tell me that he cares for me. I have resolved that I will never let him kiss me again? Shall I stick to it and forget him?—Heartbreak.

Answer: Never mind what your friends tell you. Pay attention to what you know about the conduct of the young man. Any man who speaks disparagingly of a woman, who "calls her everything but a human being," as you say, is not behaving as a gentleman should. If he continues to see the woman he disparages, to be attentive to her, he is behaving in a most dishonorable way. I should stick to my resolution about not allowing such a man to kiss me until he gave me convincing evidence that he does love me, and that he has ceased to act the cad with the other girl.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am having some rather important people for tea and would appreciate it if you would suggest a light menu.—Hostess.

Answer: Cinnamon toast, or toasted English muffins, or dainty assorted tea sandwiches (chicken, cream cheese with nuts, raisin nut bread, chopped cress on white bread, crab meat), or a fresh fruit salad with salted wafers. And a very good fragrant tea with lemon, sugar, cream and fruit drops for your guests' preference. Here's hoping your tea is a success.

TRAVELING ALONE

Jane Dixon: Is it proper for a young girl to travel alone? I have enough money to take a trip to California, but cannot afford to take a chaperone.—Anxious.

Answer: It all depends on the conduct of the girl while traveling. If she conducts herself with propriety the trip is quite proper. Travel has been so facilitated and is conducted in such an orderly manner these days that young people may go around the world on their own with perfect safety.

A HOSTESS' PRIVILEGE

Jane Dixon: A boy I know goes everywhere with his sister. I'm having a party and would like to invite him, but I don't want to ask his sister. Would it be rude for me to invite one without the other? —Else.

Answer: It is the privilege of the hostess to make out her guest list according to her own wishes and no one should take offence at being omitted, since we cannot expect all the world to prefer us for their parties. However, if you feel you would hurt the man's sister or offend either or both of them, it might be better to omit them.

AGE NO BARRIER

Jane Dixon: The girl I love is some few months older than I am. We want to marry, but are afraid the difference in age might affect our future happiness.

When we are separated for any length of time we are both miserable. When we are together we are happy and nothing seems to matter except our love. Do you think we could enter into the "Ideal Marriage" under the conditions I describe?—Unknown.

Answer: A few months or even a few years need not prevent your ideal marriage. The old-fashioned notion that women age more rapidly than men has been blown to smithereens and modern women, like men, are no older than they feel. Be thankful, both of you, that you have found real love and do not bother your young heads about negligible matters.

My nerves were terrible!

"Couldn't do a tap of work . . . sick, nervous headaches, restless nights, made life miserable for me. After taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills I feel fine again." That's the daily experience of thousands of people—young and old—all over Canada. This old, reliable remedy tones up the nerves, enriches blood, rebuilds health and strength. Try it.

Varied Activities of Y.W.C.A. Reviewed At Annual Meeting

Miss Ethel Law, of National Headquarters, Toronto, Congratulates Local Association on Pioneer Work in Organizing Workers' Course

THE work of the Victoria Young Women's Christian Association, in organizing a training course for household workers and, also, in presenting to the women's organizations of the city the "Y" code relating to hours, work, and living conditions for household workers, was the subject of a word of special congratulation by Miss Ethel Law, training and conference secretary of the National Council of the Y.W.C.A., Toronto, in the course of her address as guest-speaker at the annual meeting of the local group held last evening.

"Several of the Young Women's Christian Associations in Canada are now holding similar classes, but to Victoria must probably be given the credit for pioneering this idea of household training for girls," Miss Law said, in referring to this feature of the local "Y" activities during the past year.

WIDE ACTIVITIES

A generous programme of activities, conducted through the various departments of Victoria Y.W.C.A., was attested to in the annual reports of the president, treasurer and secretary, showing that the local association is attempting to fulfil an ideal as the community representative of a group "concerned with the carrying out of social conditions as they affect the lives of women and girls in our own community, nationally and internationally." Girls' work activities, household training and employment, housing and serving of meals, travelers' aid, educational classes, and other angles of the work were reviewed.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Roy Angus, her annual report was read by the vice-president, Mrs. John Baxter, who presided at the business proceedings following a well-attended dinner, at which representatives of various other interested organizations were present. A short demonstration of gym work by girls, under Miss Barbara Hinton's direction, concluded the evening.

CITY'S GREETINGS

Mayor Leeming and H. B. Witter conveyed the greetings of the city and the Y.M.C.A., respectively. The former especially welcomed Miss Law, who had just returned to Canada from Down Under on her way back to Toronto, and Miss Edna Pearce, general secretary of the Vancouver "Y."

"Victoria is deeply indebted to such associations as the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A., Christian organizations, which give the city its background. It is the work of these groups, in these days of stress and trouble, which help the city to keep its feet on the ground," said His Worship. The need to carry on was as great as ever. Relief work figures for January, 1935, showed only eleven families less than at the same time last year. The unemployment situation in Victoria remained unchanged in numbers, while mentally and physically, those suffering from the strain of continued unemployment could not be expected to preserve the same morale as they had five or six years ago. The city was grateful to the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. for the part they had played during this time of stress.

OTHER GREETINGS

Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson was welcomed to the gathering, and messages of greeting were brought by H. B. Witter, president of the Y.M.C.A., and by Miss Pearce, speaking for the Vancouver "Y." Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson led a five-minute devotional service, in the course of which he paid tribute to the two "Y's" for the way in which they were trying to meet "the whole sweep of mankind's need"—physical, mental and spiritual.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

A very busy year was reported in the president's annual address. The girls' work department had been expanded, the Y.M.C.A. pool and gymnasium being rented to assist with this, and, in enlarging the physical activities, it had been necessary to establish medical examinations. Mrs. T. Hammond and her committee were thanked for their untiring activities in connection with this department. Emphasis was being placed more and more on activities for the leisure time, and the appointment of a girls' work secretary was now under consideration.

Among the other activities mentioned was the organization of the training course for household workers. Begun early last year, this had been repeated during the past Autumn for six weeks. This was work of which the "Y" was proud, as it felt household work should be recognized as much as any other profession. The hope was expressed that the women of the city would feel a moral responsibility, in assisting the "Y" to raise the status of the domestic worker, by supporting the Y.W.C.A. code covering hours of work, wages and living conditions.

The Travelers' Aid, in co-operation with other societies, stood as a world-wide service to travelers, and was supported by contributions from various organizations. A new department added during the year comprised the educational classes under Mrs. Gunning's committee.

"We are closing our year with a deficit of $2,409.64, which speaks for the increased work of the association," the report noted, adding that the revenue for the year compared favorably with last year's. The finance committee had worked well in its effo... to raise funds for the association which, for the first time, had joined with the Y.M.C.A. in a public appeal for funds.

USED BY MANY

A total of 412 girls and women joined the various Christmas and New Year activities of the association; approximately 100 between the ages of six and thirty were enrolled in the various branches of girls' club work for free recreation and gymnasium, educational talks, health talks, vocational guidance, service work and social events, and during the year twenty-three permanent and 1,123 transient residents had enjoyed the "Y" privileges, the report of the secretary, Miss Fawcett, noted. A total of 30,792 meals were served, approximately 150 people being provided with free meals, and 125 with free beds. Within the twelve months a total of 792 meetings had been held in the building, with an attendance of 23,105.

The Travelers' Aid department, during the year, met 1,347 boats and 212 buses and trains, a total of 724 people being assisted.

A record of the personnel of the staff showed the following: General secretary, Miss Blackley; office secretary, Miss Minnie Lawson; dietitian and house secretary, Miss Mary Peach; annex secretary, Miss Lillie Gilchrist; Travelers' Aid, Miss Edith Schofield, and night secretary, Miss Hilda Grout.

Mrs. James Cameron read the treasurer's report, which was a comprehensive record of receipts and expenditures.

The report of the nominating committee, read by Mrs. M. W. Thomas, noted the retirement, after three years, of Mrs. Drummond Hay and Mrs. Alan Gardiner, who are replaced by two new members, Dr. Jardine and Mrs. J. A. Bland; while four re-elected members are Mrs. Whiteley, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, Miss Agnes Spencer and Mrs. John Baxter. The election of officers will take place at the meeting of directors next Tuesday.

NATIONAL OFFICER

A very marked evidence of the interest taken by the womanhood of Canada in the "Y" code for household workers had been seen in the instantaneous and widespread support it had received from numerous women's organizations throughout the country, said Miss Ethel Law in the course of her little address to the gathering.

She stressed the national and international character of the "Y" work. It was a distinctly broadening thing for girls to realize that they were members of an organization that was world-wide, and with the world-wide Christian mission and message. As far as the local aspect of the work was concerned, she was pleased to learn from the reports the emphasis which was being placed on girls' work, especially the "group" activities which taught them team work, and the fact of happy co-operation between the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A., "even to the financing of the two." Both associations were giving increasing opportunities for their members to meet each other, a step in the working out of family relationship. This was in line with the policy of the associations throughout Canada as well as of the international association.

Among other guests at the head table were Dean Quainton, Rev. Dr. Henry and Dr. H. M. Cassidy.

A special meeting of the police commission will be held shortly to consider 1935 estimates.

Delay Action—The request from Saanich that Shelbourne Street should be constituted an arterial highway was, on the motion of Alderman Walter Luney, allowed at yesterday's City Council meeting to lie in abeyance until the straightening out of the street was carried to completion. When that was done, he said, it might be possible to do away with the stop signs.

The trial was not completed when the court adjourned last evening. It will be continued on Monday. M. B. Jackson, K.C., is appearing for the Crown in conducting the prosecution, while H. A. Maclean, K.C., is defending the accused.

Died in England—News has been received here of the death in England on January 8 of Capt. Charles Needham, R.N. Captain Needham was well known to an earlier generation in Victoria, being stationed here for some time many years ago on Her Majesty's ship Rocket. He married in Victoria, and for the past several years lived at "Glen Doone," Branksome Chine, Bournemouth, England.

This was allowed and the case adjourned for hearing for one week. The witness was granted leave to take bail, the sum being fixed at $50.

Approach to Stations—A resolution to cut down the approach to service stations to twenty feet in width and to require the installing of non-parking signs of approved order in the vicinity, was introduced by Alderman Archie Wills at yesterday's council meeting. Alderman Worthington thought it might interfere with arrangements which had been carried out in good faith by the owners. Alderman Andrew McGavin was against any more service stations in the theatre section. The matter was referred to the executive committee.

The scheme was also endorsed by the Japanese Farmers' Association.

Pleaded Guilty—R. W. Wells, charged with having driven to the common danger, pleaded guilty through his counsel, J. Y. Copeman, in the city police court yesterday and was fined $20. The evidence was that the accused, coming west on Fort Street, was on the wrong side of the street and collided with another car driven by P. G. Milman, causing about $30 damage. He had also collided with the fence in front of Dr. Walter Bapty's home. Mr. Copeman said all the damages were being taken care of. The excuse offered for the mishap was that one of the tires had blown out, throwing the car out of its course.

Drainage Question — The City Council yesterday, on the motion of Alderman Archie Wills, discussed the question of allowing surface drains to be connected with sewers. The alderman said that during the recent storm it had been made evident that this practice should cease. After discussion, the city engineer, G. M. Irwin, stated there might be occasions when it would be well nigh impossible to afford drainage, without going to tremendous expense, unless the diversion was made. It was finally decided, on the recommendation of the Mayor, to allow the matter to stand, the engineer to seek the opinion of the council where deemed wise to do so.

ART PEEL WINS SHUTTLE TITLE

Defeats Jack Underhill, British Columbia Champion, at Interior Meet

KELOWNA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Art Peel, of Vancouver, today held the Central British Columbia badminton championship by virtue of a surprise victory over the provincial titleholder, Jack Underhill, Vancouver, by an 18-17, 15-8 score in the men's singles final.

Peel and Underhill combined to win the men's doubles over Saunders and Webb, of Kelowna, 9-15, 15-4, 15-6, but Underhill scored a victory over his fellow Vancouverite in the mixed doubles when he and Miss Daphne Fernie, of Kamloops, defeated Peel and Miss Jean Partington, Vancouver, 15-13, 15-13.

Margaret Taylor, Kelowna, scored a decisive win in the women's singles final, defeating Daphne Fernie 11-6, 11-1. She paired with M. Pease to defeat the Fernie sisters in the women's doubles final, 15-11, 18-15.

SEATTLE BEATS CALGARY SQUAD

CALGARY, Feb. 22 (CP).—Seattle Sea Hawks banged in two tallies in the overtime period to defeat Calgary, 3-1, in a Northwestern Pro Hockey League fixture here tonight, after the two teams had been tied 1-1 since the end of the first period.

Moon Mullen scored the deciding goal on a bouncing, flukey shot after more than half the bargain session had passed. With the goalkeeper and a defence man kneeling at the goalmouth, the puck bounced over into a narrow space between goalie and post. Harold Tabor made sure of the victory with a neat piece of sniping just seventeen seconds before the period ended.

Tabor, who has been in on the majority of Seattle goals recently, made the play for the first goal, too. Taking a pass from Tony Hemmerling, he circled the defence and fired at the corner. Sammy McAdam was waiting for the rebound and knocked it into the net. Smoky Harris scored the evener less than a minute before the period ended.

Windsor Triumphs

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP).—Defence tactics were totally discarded in a free-scoring International Hockey League game between Windsor Bulldogs and Cleveland Falcons here tonight. The Bulldogs put on a sharpshooting show to defeat the visitors, 7-5. It was the heaviest goal harvest reaped on local ice this Winter.

Drouillard and Smillie with two, Gillie, Convey and McDonald scored for Windsor. Brophy scored twice for Cleveland, and Benson, Cook and Cormier once.

Annual Ball Held At Empress Amid Brilliant Setting

Members of Victoria Fire Department Prove Excellent Hosts — 800 Guests Enjoy Festivities — Decorations Add to Gaiety of Scene

SELDOM has the annual ball of the Victoria Fire Department attracted more guests, never has the ballroom looked more festive than last evening, when approximately 800 dancers attended the gala event.

The decorations committee, headed by Alarm Superintendent Ronald Winter and Department Mechanic W. Matthews, assisted by Mr. Stanley MacKay and Mr. Fred Saunders, the latter being head gardener of the Empress Hotel, evolved a particularly effective scheme of decoration. Attention was centred upon the orchestra platform, which was transformed into a sparkling trellised rose garden. On a black velvet curtain as the background was super-imposed a glittering fleur-de-lis, with the letters "V.F.D." in shining red tinsel and "1935" in green placed in the centre of the trellis. Flowers and greenery were interwoven in the lattice, and a characteristic note in the decorative scheme was the arrangement of fire hoses, hydrants and other fire equipment.

A specially augmented orchestra played a programme of the latest dance hits, giving as encores many of the old favorites, and each dance was dedicated to some branch of public life.

THE PATRONS

Held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the Premier, Mayor and aldermanic board, hundreds of Victorians, as well as visiting golfers who are here for the Empress tournament, took part in the evening's festivities.

A sit-down supper was served in the main dining-room, where the tables were beautifully arranged with Spring flowers. Long refreshment tables in the ballroom foyer were similarly decorated.

The greatest possible credit is due the committee in charge of the ball, headed by Capt. R. T. Brindle, assisted by Mr. M. Woodburn, Lieut. H. E. Hunt, Lieut. C. A. Gwyer and Mr. P. Briers. The supper committee included Captain Brindle, Lieutenant Hunt and Mr. J. D. Puckey, while Mr. M. Woodburn made a most efficient master of ceremonies.

Dancing continued until 3 a.m. Miss Dolly Rutledge was the soloist, singing many of the choruses of the dance tunes.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.

ARE CHILDREN REALLY LAZY?

No normal baby is born lazy. In fact, at birth he is extremely active and energetic. If laziness does develop in a normal child, it is always an acquired defect.

When we bear two facts in mind, that (1) childhood is the most suggestible period of life, and (2) laziness is catching, one belief will naturally evolve that children who are lazy are surrounded by lazy adults, who are too alert to take the trouble to teach them the value of, or provide the example for, the adage that "few things are impossible to diligence and skill."

To overcome laziness, the child must be trained to both physical and mental activity. If this is neglected and he has not the examples of industry, punctuality and responsibility in the home, he will become mentally lazy and physically inert, unpunctual and irresponsible in later life.

In the home we can foster industry by letting him help with little jobs about the house, holding him, in some measure, responsible for some little routine tasks. The routine of washing and dressing, etc., should not be done by the parents, but the child should be taught to do these as early as possible. We are prone to misunderstand and unjustly label children lazy, particularly those who are ill or handicapped by physical defect, also those endowed with a poor mental equipment, and lastly those who are given to day-dreaming. To call these children lazy is unjust and certainly unwise.

We must take the trouble to understand these children, aid them in overcoming their difficulties and help them in any way we can, but for the sake of the child and to justify your own good sense, don't label him lazy nor punish him.

C.G.I.T. Notes

CHINESE UNITED

Miss Anne Fountain, provincial girls' work secretary, will be the guest speaker at the C.G.I.T. service in the Chinese United Church, 528 Fisgard Street, tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. Several of the girls will assist in the service, and the graduate girls will also take part. All interested friends of the group are invited to be present. The following Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the group will have charge of the church service, which will be carried out in the Chinese language.

SIDNEY UNITED

The Sidney C.G.I.T. department recently held their annual "mother and daughter" banquet at Wesley House. The tables were prettily decorated with green and yellow crepe paper and daffodils centered each table. A short sing-song followed the supper, after which toasts were proposed to the mothers, the church, the Sunday school and the C.G.I.T. department, and appropriate responses were made. Gwen Hollands, president of the group, gave an interesting report on the C.G.I.T. Summer camp life. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Heyer and Mr. F. James, and Violet Gimbol, Kathleen Hoare and Elaine Mackay. Miss Kathleen Lowe was the accompanist. The junior group presented a very amusing skit. Mrs. A. J. Daniels, the "mother" of C.G.I.T. of Victoria, was the guest speaker, and Mrs. F. James, leader of the group, acted as chairman throughout the programme. The delightful evening concluded with the benediction and the singing of "Taps."

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Girls' Council will be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. Senior councillors are specially requested to be present, as special business of interest to them will be discussed. All girls are asked to bring their own supper.

Many Friends Extend Their Good Wishes

A large number of friends called on Mr. and Mrs. E. Rogers, 113 Simcoe Street, on Thursday afternoon and evening, to congratulate them on the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, which took place in Stockport, Cheshire, England, on February 21, 1885. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. Garner and Mrs. S. Barrett. Forty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Rogers arrived in Victoria from California, and they have made their home here since that time.

For the past ten years, Mr. Rogers has been engineer at Christ Church Cathedral. Among the many beautiful baskets and bouquets of flowers were some from the Cathedral W.A. and the Parish Guild, of which Mrs. Rogers is a member. The Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. Schofield also sent beautiful flowers.

On behalf of the Anglican Young People's Association of the Cathedral, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were presented with a table lamp and a group of friends also gave them a handsome standard lamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers' son, Mr. Fred Rogers, of Stockton, California, has been visiting them, and will leave tonight for his home in the South.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

ROYAL OAK

The monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nicholson, East Saanich Road, with the president, Miss K. Oldfield, in the chair. A minute of silence was observed, followed by the roll call and minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Mead-Robbins, and the financial report by Miss Eva Phillips. Arrangements were completed for a bridge party to be held in the hall on Monday, February 25, with Mrs. Grieve and Mrs. F. Reeves as conveners. Sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. F. Carlss, a concert in aid of the Solarium X-ray fund will be held in the hall on March 4. Letters were read from the Michael Seed Co., of Ladysmith, and Burquitlam Gladiolus Gardens. A request for a donation to the "Peace Garden" at Brandon was received from the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada. Announcement was made of a bridge party to be held by the W.A. of the Victoria Horticultural Society. Congratulations were extended to the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ponsford, Glanford Avenue, for her bravery in saving a playmate from drowning. It was decided to send a letter to the Saanich School Trustees in regard to conditions at the Prospect Lake School. The dancing classes were reported a success, and the convener, Mrs. Mead-Robbins, was presented with a gift in recognition of her generous work. The students' dances will be held alternately each Friday night with the old-time dances. A tea and demonstration have been planned for March. A very encouraging report was given on the X-ray fund, which is receiving generous support. Mrs. Rankin was welcomed back after her illness, and Mrs. Phillips was reported to be improving. Flowers will be sent to Mrs. Miller, who is in hospital. Tea was served by members of the executive, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Nicholson for her hospitality.

NEED HIGHER AVERAGE

Tex Carleton, Larry French, Lon Warneke and Bill Lee, counted upon by Manager Charlie Grimm to be the Chicago Cubs' pitching mainstays for 1935, have a winning average together of only .543, judged from last season's records. No club ever won a pennant with so low an average.

Dance Held At Saanich Draws Crowd

The annual dance of the Saanich Liberal Association, held last night at Mount View High School, met with great success, there being some 300 persons present. This year the proceeds will be donated to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Mr. E. E. Bell, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, was partly responsible for the success of the evening.

A three-piece orchestra supplied the music for dancing, which continued until 1 o'clock. A spotlight dance and statue dance were among the novelties for which prizes were given.

A buffet supper was served under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Bell, who was assisted by Mesdames R. Noble, A. Harris and C. Cudmore. The men assisting Mr. Bell were: Messrs. R. Noble, J. Williams, A. Hemming and A. Humphreys.

Anglican Young People

ST. ALBAN'S

The regular meeting of the St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. was held on Wednesday at the home of Rev. F. W. and Mrs. Weaver. Mr. Weaver welcomed the guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. Banister, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Dorothy and Fred McIhulsh, and members of the boys' and girls' Bible classes. The forming of a junior A.Y.P.A. was discussed, but it was decided not to form a separate society but to have the younger people join as associate members, paying a small annual subscription fee. The next meeting will be on Ash Wednesday, and members are asked to attend the service that evening. The following meeting on March 20 will be an illustratcd lecture on Hampton Court Palace. A collection will be taken and everyone is welcome. Mr. Weaver then read the minutes of a meeting held on February 19 which was called by the bishop and gave a talk on the matters discussed at that meeting. Refreshments were served.

ST. MICHAEL'S

The parish hall at St. Michael's was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening when the A.Y.P.A. presented two plays under the direction of Mrs. Vincent Rush. Rev. F. Comley acted as chairman and the pianist was Miss Helen Riley, of Gordon Head, who supplied a prologue to each play. Music was also supplied by Mr. W. Sloane with gramophone records and Miss "Pat" Hoole gave a whistling solo. Between the plays a "skit" entitled "A Pair of Lunatics" was presented by Mr. and Mrs. V. Rush. The characters in "The Best Man" were Herbert Oldfield, groomsman; Earl Thompson, groom; Rosa Stone, bride, and Helen Arnot, bridesmaid. The cast for—"The Bishop's Candlestick" included Miss Catherine Butt, Miss Myrth Doyle, Major Cunningham, Vincent Rush, Kim Hind and Earl Thompson.

ST. MARY'S

The St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. visited the City Fire Hall on Wednesday and spent an interesting evening inspecting everything of interest. Next Wednesday evening a bridge drive will be held in the hall, and it is hoped that there will be a large crowd in attendance to make the affair a real success.

Employer—My boy, I started out of college on the theory that the world had an opening for me.

Office Boy—And you found it, sir?

Employer—I did. In fact, I'm in the hole right now.

Annual Dance Of Pipe Band Jolly Affair

The uniforms of the Second Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment added brilliance to the third annual dance of the pipe band held last night in the A.O.F. Hall. Nearly 400 persons attended and thoroughly enjoyed the Scottish and old-time dances which were interspersed throughout the dance programme, the music for which was provided by a popular orchestra.

The grand march was headed by the pipe band, which played a spirited Highland air, "Shye Gathering." Pipe-Major Donald Cameron and Sergeant Ian Duncan led the band. The hall was decorated with the banners of Scotland and the 16th crest. Among the officers and their wives who attended were Major-General and Mrs. E. C. Ashton, Colonel and Mrs. Walter Bapty, Colonel and Mrs. D. B. Martyn, Major and Mrs. W. G. Colquhoun, Major Henderson, Colonel J. R. Kingham, Brigadier and Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, Colonel and Mrs. Sargent (Nanaimo) and Major and Mrs. R. D. Harvey.

A sit-down supper was served, the tables being arranged with Spring flowers. In charge of the refreshments was Mrs. Donald Cameron, who was assisted by Mrs. McQueen, R. Todd and Mrs. J. Motion. The success of the affair was due to Pipe-Major Donald Cameron, the chairman of the committee, and Sergeant Ian Duncan, who assisted him. Piper George Stewart was master of ceremonies.

Conservatives' Entertainment Is Big Success

An audience of about 250 attended the well-arranged and enjoyable concert and dance of Ward Three Conservatives, held in the Conservative Rooms, Campbell Building, on Thursday evening. J. E. Branson was in the chair and in the course of the formal part of the proceedings messages of greeting were brought from R. A. Wootton, first vice-president of the British Columbia Conservative Association, and by Ernest W. Maynard, who spoke briefly on organization and the need of organization.

The fourth in the series of social events of the kind held under the auspices of Ward Three Conservatives this Winter, the affair was pronounced a big success. Announcement was made that the organization would be hosts again on March 7 at a bridge and whist drive.

Those taking part in the programme were as follows: William Harkness, magician; Mrs. H. C. Corbett, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Grace White; Reggie Stover, "musical saw," with pianofore accompanimen by Miss Evelyn Dawson; accordionists, Harvey Godtel and Reginald Gerrard, and vocalists, E. Garland and R. Hughes.

That is a touching story about someone in San Francisco who pinned a dollar note to a postcard and mailed it to the President at the White House, with just this message on the card to which it was attached:

"If you receive the dollar that has been pinned to the card, then confidence in God has been restored and love of money is vanishing."

The dollar duly arrived, so all is well—in U.S.A.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

FOOT IMBALANCE

With feet that are weak or painful, or both, you are not only unable to do many of the common jobs in life, but the distress causes a dark outlook on life itself.

Health writers, including myself, write about the feet often, and try to pass along the latest opinions and findings of our orthopedic physicians and surgeons. But as Dr. Rex L. Diveley, of Kansas City, Mo., points out, the amount of foot disorders due to foot imbalance is steadily mounting, and unfortunately physicians are allowing the management of these cases to fall into the hands of shoe salesmen and the manufacturers of various forms of arch supports.

There are two basic forms of foot imbalance: (1) the so-called flat foot, with the bones in the inner side of the foot right down instead of being held up in the form of the arch; and (2) the high arched foot with the "ball" of the foot very prominent instead of being in the form of an arch.

The ordinary flat foot, as you know, has the toes turned outward from the middle line instead of straight forward or even inward. The first symptom is a tired feeling and pain in the calf of the leg. Later the pain occurs in the bones of the foot which form the arch.

With the higher arch type with the prominent "ball" of the foot, the big bone at the beginning of the big toe stands out and the big toe is turned outward from the middle line. There is often a "bunion" on this big bone, hammer toe (no movement in the joint of the toe itself) and callous or hard spots on the ball of the foot. The pain is usually in the ball of the foot.

The treatment of foot imbalance consists of the wearing of proper shoes, which should be:

(1) Straight line on inner side instead of curving outward at the toes, and should have plenty of room at the ball of the shoe.

Finally, exercises such as gripping a marble with the toes and walking on the outer sides of the feet should be taken to pull up the arches and hold them up.

It may be a slow process for patient and physician, but the feet are as necessary as the head in making a living.

(2) The heel should extend a little farther forward on the inner side.

(3) There should be a built-in support from the heel to the bend of the sole at the toes.

After the proper shoe is fitted, supports made of sponge rubber are shaped to the foot and fitted into the shoe.

Having dined perhaps too well, a certain individual was leaving a famous restaurant in the West End, where the entrance was brilliantly lighted. In his unsteady state he was looking around the pavement, and the commissionaire, thinking he could help, courteously asked: "Have you lost anything, sir?"

"Yes, my man," was the reply. "I have lost my watch."

The commissionaire helped in the search, but without success, and at length he said: "I cannot see it, sir; do you know where you lost it?"

In unsteady tones the other told him: "Why, of course I do. I lost it at Victoria."

The commissionaire gazed at him in amazement. "Then why are you searching here, sir?" he said.

"Well . . . there's a better light here," was the reply.

Wife: "John," is it true that money talks?"

Husband: "That's what they say, my dear."

Wife: "Well, I wish you'd leave a little here to talk to me during the day. I get so lonely."

Canadian Pacific Steamships Sells Famous Old Craft

Charmer, Launched as Premier in 1887, Was Transferred to British Registry Following a Fatal Collision in 1892

A ship which has figured largely in the transportation of British Columbia and Puget Sound waters since the year 1887 will shortly pass out of the Northwest marine picture. The Ss. Charmer was sold yesterday, according to an announcement made by Captain R. W. McMurray, manager of the British Columbia Coast Service of Canadian Pacific Steamships, to Capital Iron & Metals Company, of Victoria, with the understanding that she was to be broken up.

The Ss. Charmer, as she has been known to travelers of the past four decades in these parts, was launched in the year 1887 at the plant of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, for the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company, of which Captain John Irving was manager at the time. She was named the Premier, and was placed in the Victoria-Seattle service of the company. She proved a splendid addition to the company's fleet, and when she was taken over by the Canadian Pacific system, flew the house flag of that company in active service until a short time ago.

HULL OF STEEL

Recently, the Charmer has been laid up at Esquimalt. She is now at the Belleville Street docks, and will be turned over to the Capital Iron & Metals Company as soon as the purchasers have decided where she is to be cut up. The vessel is 200 feet long, forty-three feet wide, her hull being of steel, with wooden upperworks.

During her years of service with the Canadian Pacific, the Charmer has been employed on all its interisland and gulf runs. Since 1892 she has kept away from Puget Sound waters, however. In that year she figured largely in the marine news. On October 8 she was in collision with the collier Willamette, and sank off Marrowstone Point, on the Puget Sound side of Port Townsend Harbor. The collision occurred at 2 o'clock in the morning. The bow of the big collier struck the Premier on the port side just forward of the pilot house, and crashed into the smoking-room and cabin, knocking the pilot house out of position and instantly killing three passengers, while another one died afterwards through injuries received. Twenty others were more or less seriously injured.

KEPT HER AFLOAT

The Premier was cut down to the water's edge, three plates having been penetrated, while the Willamette was only slightly damaged. Her bow was so closely interlocked with that of the Premier that she kept the latter ship from going down and towed her to Bush Point, on the opposite side of the sound, beaching her in twenty-four feet of water. The Premier's passengers were transferred to the Willamette, and afterward taken to Seattle by the tug Goliath.

It was nearly twenty-four hours before the two vessels were separated, and several days later the Premier was raised by Commodore Irving and taken to Victoria, where she was repaired and placed under the British flag, much to the chagrin of the attorneys for the victims of the disaster, who were awaiting her appearance above water to institute proceedings against her. After extensive repairs, she was placed on the Victoria and Vancouver run, and has since been known as the Charmer.

NAVAL MEN SUSPICIOUS

Japanese Officials Examine Crew of American Tanker in Tokio Bay

TOKIO, Feb. 22 (AP). — The Japanese Navy today ordered the American tanker, Elizabeth Kellogg, to submit to examination Saturday to determine whether her crew is guilty of espionage on the fortresses at the mouth of Tokio Bay.

The tanker, although chartered by the Japanese Mitsui Company, is manned by a United States crew.

En route from Yokohama toward Kobe, with her tanks half full of crude oil from California, she grounded this morning near the mouth of the bay.

Her skipper expected to refloat the Elizabeth Kellogg with the next high tide, but because the ship had spent the day close to the fortresses, the suspicions of navy officials were aroused.

They ordered the skipper to anchor off Yokosuka after refloating his vessel in order to permit the navy's investigators to board the ship.

"No, he's an amateur photographer."

CHINA GIVES JAPAN WORRY

Cordial Relationship Is Wanted but Only Under Certain Conditions

"How" will China be able to go through 1935, the so-called critical year of the world," Osaka Asahi asks. "It is an interesting subject of study," the paper continues. "Many different problems await for China to solve. Readjustment of situation following the flight of Communistic troops, compromise with the Southwestern faction, the outflow of gold and others are confronting the Nanking Administration this year.

"If the Nanking Government fails in any of these internal questions, it will result in great political confusion in China. As regards its external problems, China has already come to realize that Europe and America could be depended on. As a result, its relations to Japan have become more difficult. Circumstances will not allow China to follow a policy of procrastination with Japan any longer.

STRATEGIC MOVE

"Nanking troops have succeeded in dealing a severe blow to Communist troops, but the latter's main force has already entered Kweichow from Kwangsi, and is establishing its influence in those provinces beyond dispute. Communists are believed to be concentrating their energy on the independence of Szechwan, occupying vantage points along the Yangtze. General Chian Kai-Shek has already sent his staff officers to Chungching in Szechwan to formulate a strategic plan against Communist troops. It is believed the Nanking Government will concentrate its military force and capital on the campaign against the Communist troops in Szechwan, thereby taking an advantageous position at the Fifth Plenary Convention, which was postponed to November this year from last year.

"It is noteworthy that Mr. Wang Chingwei, president of the Executive Yuan, of the Nanking Government, in his administrative speech on New Year's Day, when the twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic was held, emphasized that China should refrain from steps that exclude forciginers, and should work to remove anti-foreign psychology. Mr. Wang meant to pave the way for a return of Sino-Japanese relations to normal. This is commendable. We believe the Japanese Government should share his sentiment and render necessary help.

MUST BE GOOD

"Before Japan does this, however, it is necessary for the two countries to make mutual concessions. The Nanking Government is well aware where the fact exists that stands against Japan's hope of improving the relations of the two powers. That country, therefore, must take steps not to render this 'force' stronger. Measures such as the employment of many German military officers or to purchase arms from different countries, in spite of financial exhaustion, must be stopped at once. It would be better for the Nanking Government to assume a positive policy in asking for Japan's assistance. We hope Sino-Japanese relations may become closer."

Russian Steamer Sinks—Number of Crew Lose Lives

SITE CHOSEN AT LANGLEY

Third B.C. Link in Trans-Canada Airways Chain Is Selected

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22. — Announcement that selection of a site for landing fields at Langley Prairie is expected to be confirmed shortly, heralds the completion of the British Columbia link in the trans-Canada chain of airports and emergency fields. The Langley Prairie site will be the third and last to be developed west of Hope, the other two selected being at Chilliwack and at Flood. It is reported that this third site will be large enough to allow development of two intersecting runways, each 3,000 feet long.

With the entire trans-Canada airway route nearing completion, a definite step in the establishment of national air services is confidently expected before many months. Considerable increase in the acceptance of air services during the past two years indicates that any move the Dominion Government makes in this direction will be heartily endorsed by Canadian business men.

SHOWS INCREASE

Figures for the operation of Canadian Airways, Ltd., alone demonstrate the increasing demand for air services in Canada, according to Major D. R. MacLaren, superintendent of operations in the Pacific Coast area.

While Canadian Airways planes carried only 8,963 passengers in 1932, 16,594 were carried in 1934. Mail carrying has been restricted mostly to services in frontier districts of the north, yet 472,306 pounds of mail were carried in 1934, as against 299,066 pounds in 1932. Express flown totaled 1,870,136 pounds in 1932, but increased to over five and three-quarter million pounds in 1934.

Ministers to Have Important Matters At Monday Meeting

IMPORTANT decisions bearing on the church life of the city will be made at the meeting on Monday, at 10 o'clock, in the Memorial Hall, of the Ministerial Association. At a largely attended and earnest conference held last Monday on evangelism in Victoria and district, the general idea of a simultaneous mission was adopted. Whether a united "Service of Witness," after the plan of the recent gathering in Montreal, should be held at an early date, possibly on Ash Wednesday, or in the beginning of Autumn, will be decided upon. Ways of utilizing the Lenten season for the deepening of the spiritual life of ministers and people will be considered.

Strong have been well received. She will speak twice on Sunday, at 11 and 7:30 o'clock, and every night next week, except Saturday, at 8.

A special divine healing meeting will be conducted on Thursday evening, when the sick will be prayed for.

TWO NOTABLES TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. E. J. Springett and Col. W. G. MacKendrick on British-Israel Themes

LIEUT.-COL. W. G. MacKENDRICK

Terminating a tour across Canada under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation (Canada), Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion Commissioner of the Federation, accompanied by Col. W. G. MacKendrick, D.S.O., will arrive in Victoria on Thursday, February 28. In support of the forward movement recently inaugurated by the Federation, these two leaders of British-Israel in Canada have addressed meetings in the larger cities and have received a remarkable reception.

Both these outstanding speakers will address two public meetings under the auspices of the Federation, at the City Temple, North Park Street, on the evenings of February 28 and March 1, at 8 o'clock, when they will present their views in regard to the cause and remedy for the present chaotic conditions. His Worship Mayor Leeming and T. H. Laundy have kindly consented to act as chairmen, respectively.

WELL KNOWN HERE

Rev. E. J. Springett is well known to Victoria audiences, having visited this city in 1933 and 1934. Mr. Springett has recently returned from England, where he attended the annual congress in London, and will no doubt have much to say of the progress of British-Israel in the Old Country.

Colonel MacKendrick, who writes under the nom de plume, "The Roadbuilder," displays a keen insight into world affairs, coupled with a wit and style that appeals to readers in all walks of life. Two of his books in particular, "The Destiny of the British Empire and U.S.A." and "God's Commonwealth—Britain and America," have run into many editions and received wide comment. Colonel MacKendrick served with distinction in the Great War and enjoys a wide circle of friends in military circles.

"Mind" to Be Lesson On Sunday

"Mind" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding" (Job, 28, xxviii).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them" (Proverbs, 20, xii).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is more Christianity in seeing and hearing spiritually than materially. There is more Science in the perpetual exercise of the Mind-faculties than in their loss. Lost they cannot be, while Mind remains. The apprehension of this gave sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf centuries ago, and it will repeat the wonder."

VETERANS WILL TELL OF WORK

Rev. Dr. Jonathan and Mrs. Goforth to Speak at St. Andrew's Church

Tomorrow the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will enjoy a visit from the veteran Presbyterian missionaries, Rev. Dr. Jonathan Goforth and Mrs. Goforth, of Manchuria, who have recently returned to Canada after forty-seven years' service in China. Dr. Goforth will speak in the morning and Mrs. Goforth in the evening.

The people of Victoria are cordially invited to hear these honored missionaries, whose work is known throughout the Christian world. The minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, will officiate at both services.

The soloist for the morning services will be Mrs. T. R. Bowden, who will sing "The Lord Is My Shepherd" (Alfred Wooler). The choir will sing Woodward's anthem, "Far From Their Home." In the evening Mrs. W. A. Jameson will sing "Saviour of Sinners" (Cherubini). The evening anthem will be "How Lovely Are the Messengers" (Mendelssohn).

UNIQUE PORTRAIT TO BE PRESENTED

Dr. W. J. Thompson Has Special Subject at City Temple — Twilight Recital at 3 o'Clock

At the City Temple, 842 North Park Street, Dr. W. J. Thompson, pastor, will continue the series of special messages on "The Pearl of Parables," at the morning service tomorrow. The City Temple Choir will sing "Te Deum" (Jackson). At 3 o'clock, in the City Temple, another inspiring programme in the Twilight Music Recitals will be presented by the Oak Bay United Church Choir. Large audiences are showing special appreciation of these musical treats given in the City Temple each Sunday from 3 to 4 o'clock.

At the evening service at 7:30 Dr. Thompson has chosen as his theme "A Remarkable Portrayal of Christ." Special music includes City Temple Choir in "Holy Art Thou" (Handel), and male quartette, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" (F. C. Maker), by Messrs. Roberts, Bradbury, Sedgman and Pearson.

Catholic Church Is Most Far-Reaching World Organization

THE machinery of what is said to be "the most far-reaching and perfectly adjusted human organization in the world" is described in the book recently issued by The Macmillan Company, "The Catholic Church in Action," by Michael Williams. This volume will be reviewed in tomorrow's issue as the regular church feature article.

WILL REPLY TO EIGHT QUERIES

Dr. Clem Davies to Treat Current Topics at Empire Theatre

Dr. Clem Davies will answer the following questions on Sunday night:

"In view of the startling conditions about to be revealed, will the Commission of Enquiry into Lumbering Conditions be a farce?" (Sensational facts with screen illustrations will be shown.)

Answering Mr. Rolf Bruhn's own question: "Does the remedy for existing conditions lie in the radical transformation of the very basis of our economic life and the supercession of private enterprise by a collective system of ownership and control—or in putting an end to the abuses of the present system?"

"Why are our girls committing suicide, and what is the city doing in the way of assistance for our young women?"

"Has not the time arrived to let in the daylight, so that Canadians can know the real truth about the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and whether its operations are for the good of the people of the Dominion?"

"Is it true that certain B.C. civil servants upon retirement will be entitled to draw over $4,000 a year pension?"

"Is it true that pensions of city workers throughout the province are in danger?"

"Is not Victoria, legally, now a free port?" (Some incontrovertible evidence will be offered.)

"Are the members of the B.C. Legislature going to ask for increased indemnity (or more pay)?"

At the morning service Dr. Davies will preach on the subject, "Can We Communicate With Our Departed?" "Do our loved know about our love and sorrow today? Can they assist us in our problems? Do they affect adversely or otherwise our existence on earth?"

Services will start when the edifice is full at night, probably around 7:15 o'clock.

NEW MINISTER IS EX-SERVICE MAN

Rev. J. A. Hughes, of Broad Street Pentecostal Assembly, Well Recommended by Conference

REV. J. A. HUGHES

Rev. J. A. Hughes, who has recently been installed as pastor of Broad Street Pentecostal Assembly, is an ex-service man, having served with the British Imperial Forces overseas. Subsequently to the Great War he was converted from active and aggressive atheism to the cause of Christ, in Vancouver, B.C.

After attending Simpson Bible Institute in Seattle, Mr. Hughes held evangelistic meetings in the states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. He is a member of the Conference of the Pacific North-West, and was well recommended by that body to the local assembly. The past pastorate held by the new minister was at Hillsboro, Oregon, and prior to his call to the Victoria Assembly he supplied the pulpit for about two months.

Mrs. Amy Hughes was a public school teacher in the state of Washington prior to her taking up the work of the ministry with her husband.

The new Broad Street pastor, who succeeds Rev. C. M. Ward, who is now engaged as assistant editor of The Pentecostal Evangel, Toronto, is earnest, sincere and energetic, and emphasizes in his ministry the evangelistic note of the Gospel and the deeply spiritual requirements of the Word of God.

Canon Chadwick Will Read Message of Primate of All Canada at St. John's

The services at St. John's Church for Sexagesima Sunday will consist of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer and sermon at 11, and Evensong and sermon at 7:30. In the evening there will be an organ recital by G. J. Burnett before the service, commencing at 7:10 o'clock. During the service the choir will sing the anthem, "Sweet Is Thy Mercy, Lord" (Barnby), the solo being taken by Mrs. L. Batchelor. In his address Canon Chadwick will give some of the features and details of the social service work of the Church of England in Canada.

RICH EVENT TO BE RUN TODAY AT SANTA ANITA

EQUIPOISE DRAWS IDEAL BERTH FOR SOUTHERN CLASSIC

Luck of Draw Puts Whitney Stable Entry a Stride Nearer Goal of Becoming Greatest Money Winner of All Time—Canadian Horse Is Fourth From Rail—Track Is Fast

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Luck of the draw today sent Equipoise a stride nearer the goal of becoming the leading money winner of all time.

The seven-year-old chestnut of the C. V. Whitney Stable drew twentieth position—an ideal spot—in the field of twenty-one overnight entries for the Santa Anita $100,000 handicap tomorrow.

Expert turfmen were convinced that the clever Raymond ("Sonny") Workman could pilot "Ekky" through the cumbersome field of starters.

Overnight odds on the Whitney entry, which includes the speedy filly, High Glee, were 13 to 5, but there was every indication the expected crowd of more than 50,000 would make it the odds-on-favorite tomorrow.

TRACK FAST

Of the thoroughbreds entered today, no less than fifteen will go to the post, and there was a good chance eighteen might answer the call for the mile and a quarter test. Clear skies and a fast track were in prospect.

The lone Canadian entry was Ted Clark, the former plater, who will carry the silks of Dr. C. N. Mooney, of Toronto.

Ladysman, which has trained brilliantly here, was drawn fourth from the rail. A thoroughbred with lots of early speed, Ladysman was expected to make the most of this by going out among the leaders from the starting gate. The five-year-old will hold a thirteen-pound weight advantage, since Ekky was assigned top impost of 130 pounds.

Twenty Grand drew seventh position, a difficult spot for the veteran son of St. Germans.

Of the others sure to be present tomorrow, Azucar, the reformed steeplechaser; Gusto, three-year-old champion of 1932, and Head Play were listed at odds of 12 to 1, followed by Time Supply, Faireno and Fleam at 15 to 1.

HAS OUTSIDE CHANCE

On a fast track the five-year-old Ted Clark that cost Dr. C. N. Mooney $1,500 would seem to have only an outside chance to win the coveted event from such great thoroughbreds as Equipoise, Head Play, Twenty Grand, Ladysman and Time Supply.

But if it rains—the weatherman is pessimistic as to this chance—the former plater might be hard to catch.

C. A. Marone, trainer of Ted Clark, sired by Chatterton out of Uncle's Lassie, admitting his guess is no better but no worse than that of the next stable, remarked: "I can only say that Ted Clark has a chance. He was trained well here and he likes the track. He certainly will have no excuses with Don Meade up. When Dr. Mooney decided to bring Meade here from Miami he showed what he thought of the horse."

Meade rode Broker's Tip to victory in the Kentucky Derby two years ago. He served his early apprenticeship on the Winnipeg, Calgary and Saskatoon racing circuit.

The Canadian horse will have 100 pounds up, as compared to the 130 the handicapper has freighted Equipoise with, and the 126 such as Twenty Grand and Statesman must carry.

KEARNEY'S ODDS

Tom Kearney, veteran St. Louis betting commissioner, apparently thinks so, too. His odds on the Toronto horse are 12 to 1. He quotes Ekky at 3 to 2; Twenty Grand Ladysman and Time Supply at 6 to 1, and Azucar at 8 to 1. Then come Ted Clark, Head Play, Riskulus, High Glee and Good Goods at 12 to 1. Behind them, Kearney ranks such as Mate, Fareno and Sweeping Light at 20 to 1; Gillie, Statesman and Mad Frump at 40 to 1.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

This is how the teams participating in the local senior basketball series stand:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Victoria West	4	1	8
Y.M.C.A.	3	2	6
North Ward	3	2	6
James Bay	0	5	0

A number of enthusiastic baseball players gathered at Peden Bros' store, Government Street, last evening to discuss plans for the forthcoming season. It was decided that the Victoria club would again be organized; that it would be made up almost entirely of local players, and that practices would begin on Good Friday and continue until the opening of the season's series. A. Matelett was elected manager, with A. W. Northcott, Jr., treasurer. The indications, judging by the feeling prevading at the proceedings, are that there won't be any lack of material and that the city will have a fast team in the field—one capable of making a good showing in competition with the finest amateur aggregations of the Northwest.

In a match between the Y.M.I. and Banker basketball teams last evening, the former won out by a score of 29 to 14. The game all through was in favor of the Y.M.I. five, the account standing 17 to 6 at half time. The contest was interesting, being rendered the more so by a large crowd of rooters, which punctuated play with frequent outbursts of applause. Leo Sweeney refereed.

WESTS' SOCCER LINE-UP

Victoria United Will Make Journey to Nanaimo Tomorrow

VICTORIA United soccer eleven will journey to Nanaimo tomorrow to battle the Up-Islanders in the final game of the Brackman-Ker Cup series. The kick-off is set for 2:30 o'clock and S. Craig, Vancouver arbiter, will handle the whistle. With two wins to their credit, the locals will retain the coveted trophy if they are successful in defeating Nanaimo on their home grounds. However, victory for the Up-Islanders will even up the series and force an extra game. Victoria United are favored to take the fixture after their impressive win in the last match played at the Royal Athletic Park here.

C.N.R. Bowlers Claim World's Tenpin Record

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22 (CP).—A world tenpin bowling record was claimed for Canadian National Telegraphs four-man team in the Winnipeg Mercantile League tonight.

The quartette spilled the pins for a total of 2,677 last night in three games. The previous record listed with the American Bowling Association was credited to the Vic Sporelli Market team in Utica, N.Y., which counted 2,599 pins April 21, 1934.

Individual scores for the telegraphers in their heavy trundling in the three games were: G. Lundgren, 717; Roy Hicks, 715; Sally Sallstrom, 673, and John Dyer, 572. Lundgren also had the high single game, 279.

Young Corbett Wins Over Van Klaveren

Former Welterweight Champion Takes Easy Ten-Round Decision Over Dutchman—Is Given Edge in Every Round by Scribes

By RUSSELL NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (AP).—Young Corbett III, stocky Fresno, Cal., southpaw, who won and lost a championship during an eventful ring career, demonstrated today in striking fashion that he must still be considered a middleweight contender.

He completely outclassed Bep Van Klaveren, tough little Holland boy, in a ten-round fight here at Kezar Stadium before a holiday crowd of 8,000 fans.

A few weeks ago the former welterweight titleholder was only able to beat Van Klaveren by a close decision. He showed a remarkable reversal of form today to give the Dutchman an all-round beating.

There were no knockdowns, but several times the Fresno left-hander stopped his opponent dead in his tracks with stiff lefts to either the face or body.

Van Klaveren was ineffective throughout the bout, which was fought at a swift pace. Only in the eighth round did the Dutchman give an account of himself, landing several strong rights to Corbett's jaw. But they were not sufficient to offset a steady stream of blows sent in by the Fresno fighter.

HAD BIG EDGE

The Associated Press score sheet gave Corbett an edge in every round. Lieutenant Jack Kennedy, U.S.N., third man in the ring, gave nine rounds to the Fresnan and called the eighth even.

Van Klaveren's left eye was puffed and bleeding at the end of the bout. Corbett appeared as fresh as when he started.

Aside from the eighth round, Van Klaveren made little progress. The wide right-handed punches that floored Corbett for a short count in their first meeting two weeks ago whistled harmlessly over the Fresno boy's head today. Corbett was the master at both close and long-range fighting. He tied up Van Klaveren in the clinches and met every rush with jolting lefts to the face or body.

Veterans Will Be Challenged This Year for Places

Rapidly Improving Youngsters May Oust Former Stars From Canadian Press All-Star National Hockey League Team—Many in Line for Positions—Goalie's Job Open

By ELMER DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP).—Whether or not they will be altered greatly when it is all over, National Hockey League all-star ratings are getting a grand old shuffling these days. There seems to be a trend away from the figures who have been foremost in the sport for years. Two or three years ago any all-star team without such headliners as Bill Cook, Ching Johnson, King Clancy, Eddie Shore, Chuck Gardiner, Aurel Joliat and even Howie Morenz either included or very close to being included, would have been viewed with amusement. Certainly not with respect.

CHUCK GARDINER

Sports writers contributing to the 1935 Canadian Press all-star poll seem to have looked over the activity and decided some of the old fellows have slipped. Some have slipped right out of the picture. Others are being challenged for top ranking. A few are holding their own.

Early returns in the balloting by Canadian and United States sports writers in N.H.L. cities reveal a greater spread in opinion that any poll has brought out since the Canadian Press inaugurated its selection machinery in 1931. Outstanding performers, according to the newspaper judges, are conspicuous by their absence.

HEADED LIST

The great Gardiner is dead and there is no one to acceptably fill his shoes. The curly-headed jumping-Jack of Chicago Black Hawks was voted the league's best goaltender by an overwhelming margin last year. It's almost a free-for-all among 1935 netmen to replace him on the first all-star team.

Alex Connell, of Montreal Maroons, staging a fine comeback; Cecil (Tiny) Thompson, of Boston; little Roy Worters, of New York Americans; Lorne Chabot, of Chicago, and Toronto's George Hainsworth, all are in the running. Dave Kerr, of New York Rangers, is not being ignored.

Defence posts went to veterans last year. Clancy and Lionel Conacher held down the first-team berths. But 1935 has not been so kind to the King, one of the oldest of campaigners, and injuries have lessened the defence brilliance of the Big Train for several stretches.

Eddie Shore has pounded his way back into a foremost position among rearguards. Art Coulter, of Chicago, has more or less replaced Earl Seibert, of Rangers, as "potential great." Seibert himself is stampeding now that the blueshirts have found themselves.

Detroit has two contenders for all-star defence rating—Eddie Goodfellow and "Scotty" Bowman. Happy Day, of Toronto, has caught the newsmen's eye and so has Cy Wentworth, of Maroons. The ballots are slow to give a decisive edge anywhere. It will be a close race until all selections are in.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES

Frank Boucher, of Rangers, may hold the centre job he won in both 1933 and 1934, but Cooney Weiland, of Detroit; Russ Blinco, of Maroons, and Joe Primeau, of Toronto, are making this a more interesting engagement than usual.

It would be astonishing if Harvey Jackson and Charlie Conacher, of Leafs, were not selected to the wing positions.

The fun goes on for second-team wing berths with Dit Clapper, of Boston, striving to oust Bill Cook from right wing, and Aurel Joliat, Johnny Gottselig, Paul Thompson and Herbie Lewis in a left-wing clinch.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Bearded Queen Equilibrist—Zephyrine Saqui began to perform on the high rope at the age of one year and continued as the favorite acrobat of Europe until the age of seventy-eight. She performed for the French mobs that destroyed the Bastille, she continued under the Directoire and the Empire. In time she married and raised a family but kept on balancing in the air surrounded by three generations of her own offspring. By some queer coincidence she grew a beard in mature years, and admiring crowds traveled from great distances to watch the performance of "La Dame Barbue." She was a great trooper and performed before the crowned heads of Europe. At the age of seventy-eight she traversed the high rope standing on her head with her dancing feet in the air.

Mrs. Gillespie in Victory Over Mrs. Cuppage at 20th

Qualifying Round Winner Taken Two Extra Holes to Gain Beatty Trophy at Oak Bay Links — Steil and Cuppage Reach Men's Final — Whaley Faces Rust in Open Event

Goldie Terry will meet Howard Reid in the first flight.

The sea-bordering links was swept by a strong wind and intermittent rains yesterday morning and most of the competitors found the going extremely hard. At intervals during the afternoon the sun broke through the clouds, but it was still cold.

CLOSE MATCH

Mrs. Gillespie needed her strokes to register victory over Mrs. Cuppage, mother of today's finalist in the handicap event. The pair battled on very even terms around to the eighteenth green, where Mrs. Gillespie nearly met defeat. Mrs. Cuppage came within two inches of holing out a thirty-foot approach putt, after which the medal winner stepped up and caged an eighteen-footer to gain a half and sent the match to extra holes. The nineteenth was halved, and then Mrs. Gillespie ended the match at the short twentieth when she found the green with her tee shot, while Mrs. Cuppage was in difficulty in traps and finally picked up.

Again playing near-par golf, Lee Steil reached the handicap final by eliminating T. O. Mackay, Oak Bay, 5 and 4. The tall Seattleite, giving away strokes, took two of Mackay's stroke holes by stymies. He jumped at most of his opportunities to gain his clear-cut verdict over the veteran Victorian. Ed Cuppage, who had the honor of defeating Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver's holder of the world's welterweight fight title, on Thursday, earned the right to face Steil by accounting for A. J. Taylor, Wetaskiwin, Alta., 5 and 4. Cuppage took an early lead and maintained it most of the way.

FACES TOUGH TASK

To win the Beatty Trophy today, Steil faces a tough assignment, probably the hardest of his brilliant career in Northwest golf circles. He is forced to give Cuppage fourteen strokes on each eighteen, which means he gives out twenty-eight strokes in thirty-six holes, a tremendous handicap for any golfer to face.

The Whaley-Ketchum match in the open semis attracted the gallery. Whaley captured the first two holes, lost the third and then went two up again by winning the fourth with a par. Getting a birdie three at the tricky fifth, Ketchum sliced Whaley's lead for a second time. He also won the next hole to square the match. The next two were halved, and Whaley got a birdie deuce at the ninth to head down the back stretch two up. Most of the holes on the incoming route were halved and Whaley took the decision on the last green by gaining a half in par fours.

Playing his usual steady and serious brand of golf, H. L. Rust gained the last bracket in the men's open by putting out Norm Fell, Oak Bay, 3 and 1. In the first flight, Jimmy McLarnin gave Goldie Terry stubborn opposition before admitting defeat, losing out on the nineteenth green, while Howard Reid beat Harold Wilson, 4 and 2, to reach the final.

Mrs. E. B. Sutherland, Fort William, scored a 3 and 2 victory over Miss Dorothy Fletcher in the final of the first flight in the handicap event. Another Seattle player came through in the fifth flight, W. B. Woodell, Sound City entrant, gaining a 4 and 3 win over Boss Johnson, New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Leach triumphed in the mixed foursomes by returning a net card of 73. A. L. Lewis and Miss Duff-Stuart were runners-up with a net 74, and Ralph Rogers and Mrs. A. Watson were third with 75.

WESTROPE IS FINED AGAIN

Famous Jockey Pays for Rough Riding — Coucci Has Two Winners

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Sylvio Coucci, who will ride Twenty Grand in tomorrow's $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, brought in two winners in today's racing programme to share honors with T. Luther, who guided Billie Bane to victory in the feature event of the day, the $2,500 Added Juvenile Championship, at six furlongs.

Billie Bane, a gelded son of Breadalbane and owned by T. D. Grimes, went to the front early and showed the way to the finish. The race was worth $2,050 to the winner, which paid $8 on $2 mutuel tickets. Blaze Home finished second, and Rattlebrain, owned by Constance Bennett, the screen actress, was third.

Coucci's two winners were Bonnie Pan in the opening race, a six-furlong event, and Bamboula in the fifth over the same distance. Coucci also brought in a second place horse, Vacillate, which was defeated in a stretch duel with Sophist in another six-furlong race.

WESTROPE FINED

Jack Westrope, who will ride Riskulus in tomorrow's big race, was fined $100 for rough riding in the fifth race, won by Coucci aboard Bamboula. Westrope was riding March Step. This is the second assessment this week against Westrope. He was fined $50 earlier this week for engaging in an argument with Frank Mauro and using strong words in the jockey room.

The other feature of the programme, the Washington Birthday Purse race for $1,000 at a mile and one-sixteenth, was won by Joe Flores, ridden by Harry Richards. He returned $19 for a winning $2 ticket. Respect, ridden by Don Meade, who came from Florida by airplane to pilot Ted Clark tomorrow, was shut out in this race.

Seventy-Seven Golfers Have Entered Feesey Cup Play at Uplands Course

Seventy-seven golfers, including such well-known club-swingers as Bob Morrison and Harold Brynjolfson, former city and British Columbia champions, will tee off in the annual Feesey Cup competition, which will start at the Uplands course tomorrow. The eighteen-hole qualifying round will be played on full handicap, and some close to par scores should be registered during the day.

H. BRYNJOLFSON

Match play, with three-quarters of the difference in handicaps allowed, will begin Sunday, March 3. Eliminations will continue each week-end until the final is reached. As the tournament is played on a handicap basis, any one of the large field has an equal chance to lift the silverware.

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Price Changes at Eastern Markets Small and Mixed

MONTREAL, Feb. 22 (CP).—Lack of an outside lead gave an irregular trend to trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

Howard Smith, Simon Cigars and Wabasso Cotton provided the only redeeming features. The former rose 3 5-8 to 95 1-2; Simons added 3-4 at 11 1-4, while Wabasso jumped 2 to 26 1-2.

The main group displayed no particular trend. Nickel, Industrial Alcohol, Montreal Power, B.C. Power and other minor issues eased fractions.

General Steel Wares and Massey-Harris were narrowly higher.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP).—Only four stocks, Imperial Oil, Fanny Farmer, Dominion Stores and Dominion Tar common, traded more than 1,000 shares each today on the industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange. The entire volume was down to 16,000 shares. Prices drifted down narrowly to show a narrow margin of losses over gains at the close.

The holiday on the New York market, where Washington's birthday was being observed, helped to cut the local volume by depriving the market of the usual "big board" leadership Ford "A" and C.P.R. had only 100 shares turnover combined, and Walkers common failed to appear in the transactions. Nickel and Ford were off 1-8 to 3-8 each.

Selling of Dominion Stores to the extent of 1,275 shares was evidently due to reduced earnings showing only 6 1-2c a share having been earned in 1934. The close at 9 1-4 was down 1 3-8, with the bulk of the sales having been transacted at 9.

In the oils Supertest ordinary advanced and Imperial, leading the board for volume, closed off 1-4. Banks were slow and steady, implement stocks were heavy, steels slow with minor price changes and in the construction group the Dominion Tar stocks responded to reports of paving contracts having been booked. The preferred issue advanced 10 points to 70 and the common 1-2 to 6.

The second shipment of strawberries from Florida arrived in Victoria yesterday and will go on sale today. The shipment consists of 360 hallocks. The previous shipment of 120 hallocks was all sold, it was reported. Of excellent quality, the strawberries are selling at 35 cents per box.

The shipment of mixed vegetables due here today will be the largest received in Victoria for some months. Included in the shipment are oranges, grapefruit, lettuce, cauliflower, celery, spinach and carrots. A small shipment of California cauliflower and green peas came in yesterday. The latter were reported as down somewhat on the previous price listings. Prices quoted were 20 cents a pound and two pounds for 45 cents. Formerly the peas sold at 30 cents a pound.

Large-sized oranges continued to predominate the market and in the shipment due today, 75 per cent of the complete orange cargo is of the larger type. These oranges will continue to be best buys until the navel season ends in May, wholesalers declared.

A carload of Ashcroft potatoes was unloaded into warehouses yesterday. Potato prices continued to remain steady.

Carrot prices were down slightly, the listed price being three pounds for 25 cents instead of 10 cents per pound. Rhubarb was off and lower prices are likely next week. A carload of bananas will arrive here on Tuesday.

WHEAT PRICES CHANGE LITTLE

Large Export Sale Fails to Shake Winnipeg Market From Doldrums

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22 (CP).—Traders lolled about the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as wheat prices, their opening quotations marked up, seemed glued to those levels. The largest wheat exports in days caused barely a ripple.

American exchanges on holiday, the Winnipeg market was "on its own" today. The session was one of the quietest on record. Even the sale of export of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat failed to shake off the doldrums.

The May future showed a fluctuation of only 1-16 of a cent, closing at 83 1-8c. July moved 1-8c to close at 82 3-8.

Argentine wheat exports this week totaled 4,000,000 bushels and Australia's 2,431,000 bushels. Of the total Southern Hemisphere shipments, approximately 3,000,000 bushels went to non-European countries. Cash and coarse grains were at a standstill.

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Car loadings on Canadian railways for the week ended February 16 amounted to 45,299 cars, compared with 40,952 cars for the corresponding period last year, and 44,880 cars for the previous week, according to the report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Miscellaneous freight increased by 2,032 cars.

"John, you must discharge the cook. She was impertinent to me and threatened to throw me out of the kitchen."

"The idea. I certainly shall discharge her. No domestic can talk to my wife like that and not answer to me for it."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, John. Maggie is in the kitchen now."

"All right. I'm going to the office, and when you hear the telephone ring, you tell Maggie I want to speak to her."

REPAIRS AROUSE SOME SUSPICION

The street sweeper question is still something of a live one in the City Council. This was made evident at the meeting of that body yesterday when it was reported to the council through the city comptroller, D. A. Macdonald, that, including insurance, licences and repairs, the cost of operation of the machine was, last year, only $4,399.

Immediately Alderman Walter Luney came forward with the proposal that he was inclined to think that there was some mistake here. He added that it was quite possible to repair a machine and charge the labor somewhere else.

Immediately there were objections led by Alderman James Adam, who said he was surprised at such a charge.

Alderman Luney declared he was not making a charge. All he had said was that it was quite possible that some of the repair work could be charged against some other account. He went on to explain that the number of times he had seen the machine on the side of the road while repairs were waiting to be made prompted in his mind that the repairs would cost more than was indicated by the figures given.

Citing figures for repairs, the Mayor, who also remarked upon the number of breakdowns there had been with the machine, showed that repairs had dropped in the showing by about $500 last year, as compared with 1930, when figures amounted to double that or more.

The matter was referred to the estimates committee, with the suggestion by the Mayor that Alderman Luney look into the matter for his own satisfaction also. The alderman said he certainly would do so.

WHY DO WE CALL IT A 'MATCH'?

New inventions frequently bring with them new names—but not always. Consider, for example, that indispensable implement known as a match.

Today's common form of match is a small wood splint tipped with a phosphorus or chlorate of potassium preparation which will ignite upon friction.

Originally, however, the match, or as it was called among our Anglo-Saxon forbears, macche, was a candlewick.

Macche is derived from the Latin myxa, meaning lamp-wick, the Latin term, in turn coming from the Greek root of similar sense.

Thus, while the form of the word has changed, as has also the object which it represents, it has retained its connotation as being that which catches, holds or communicates fire.

Johnny was reproved by his mother for wasting bread. "You should never throw away bread," she said, "you may want it some day."

"Well," said Johnny, "would I have any better chance of getting it then if I were to eat it now?"

CHAPTER XXX

When Sherry arrived at the theatre a day late the manager naturally showed his irritation, but had he been infuriated it would not have fazed Sherry in the least. The sky was grey and heavy with more snow, but for Sherry the sun was shining.

When she appeared on the stage that afternoon, she knew that the audience was disappointed. She could not sing a heart-breaking torch song about a lover who had gone away. She had found her lover. She wanted to sing about a future with Tony, about a house that was to be hers and a happiness soon to begin.

Between appearances one might find her at her desk in her hotel room writing rapidly. To her mother she wrote the full account of their fateful meeting. "Grandmother Sheridan will think that I, too, have a great faith, but really blind belief guided me here. He has changed very little. More sober, perhaps, less flippant, but still as wonderful. Mother, I have started to live again.

"About money . . . you know I have made quite a lot of it, but I want to go to Tony—poor. He has enough to keep us comfortably. And so all my money I am going to make over to you and father to do with as you wish. Tim told me last Summer he would like to study medicine, and that will take a great deal of money. I want him to do it. Ina prefers art school to finishing school, and I want you and father to spend next Summer in Europe.

"I know you won't want to accept it, but my wishes are final. You've done so much for Tony and me. Had it not been for you, he would not be the man he is today. As Tony said, we have gone a long way. We are different people, new people, wiser people. Only our love hasn't changed.

"I'am so happy, so very happy. You know more than anyone how miserable I have been."

Sherry put the letter in an envelope and looked out over the snow-covered roofs of the Western city. She took another piece of notepaper and wrote, "Dear Eric, it wasn't a fool's errand, my dear. I have found him, or rather he found me, and we will be married next week. Thank you, Eric, for having been my devoted friend. Friend! You hate that, don't you, when you wanted to be my lover? I feel that one of these days you will compose something of value that I shall be proud that I have known you. But you must love deeply before you can write music, great music. I have never been a glamorous person, Eric. I'm plain and simple and you love glamorous women. When I say good-bye to you, I am saying good-bye to a world that was very kind, but to a world in which I never quite belonged. You will undoubtedly be a great success and love many beautiful women, but I Eric, prefer to marry Tony and be—just his wife."

But the time was getting late. Sherry dressed. Jim, who had brought the car, called for her and took her to the theatre.

Someone knocked on the door of her dressing-room.

"Come in," said Sherry.

It was the manager, a swarthy, middle-aged man who gesticulated wildly when he talked.

"They tell me," he said, "that you are going to retire from the stage and the radio."

"Yes. News seems to travel fast, doesn't it?"

"Oh, but that's too bad, too unfortunate."

"Oh! And your career . . . Oh, I see, I understand. My wife, she was an actress, too, but when we got married, she quit the stage, too. How is a woman going to be an actress and raise a family, too? We have five wonderful children." He shook his head. "Ah, but you are wise. You give up a fine career to be a man's wife."

When Sherry returned to the theatre that night, she wrote Henderson a long letter, which read in part: "You have been so kind to me I couldn't send a mere telegram. You deserved an explanation, and told him about Tony and the long course of their love affair. "There are, I am sure, other girls with more talent than I have who will be willing to be your songbird. And whatever singing I do in the future will be in my own living-room. This is difficult to do . . . more so than I realized, because people have been so kind. I owe a great deal of my success to you."

There were so many people to write to, so many things that needed her attentions, but those old ties with the old life had to be severed before the new life could be begun.

She liked to close her eyes and give herself up to her dreams. And she could see a living-room, cozy and bright, and in the dim light were Tony and she. Tony's dark hair. His smile. His clear laughter.

Thursday night was her last public appearance. All that day she had been excited. All plans were made to go to Tony in the morning. Jim was to drive the car back East and leave it with her family, and then join his own family. When she went to Tony, she would go alone, unencumbered, poor.

Announcement of her retirement had been in the evening papers, and when she stepped out on the stage wearing a shimmering dress, the storm of applause was greater than ever. Tonight she sang a happy song of lovers reunited. A song to Tony and to that future they would make together. After her last song, the swarthy little manager appeared on the stage and made the solemn announcement this was the last public appearance of Sherry Ross. For Sherry it was deeply touching. Strange and touching that a mere voice over the radio had become personal to millions of people. These people in the audience whose lives she did not know knew all about her. They knew she was giving up everything for a boy named Tony.

People thronged the stage door entrance when she came out wrapped in her fur coat. Snow was falling and the downtown stores were bright with gay yuletide gifts and toys.

Sherry's heart was full to overflowing. Christmas. All's right with the world. This Christmas would not be spent in Hollywood, rich and glittering though it was. It would be with Tony . . . and she would be his wife.

Sleep was impossible that night. Did Tony, too, stare into the darkness with happy eyes? "Keep us as we are now," she prayed, "happy and in love and unafraid," and laughed quietly to herself. "I shall be sleepy tomorrow. I shall be a sleepy bride. Tomorrow is my wedding day."

The next morning she said good-bye to Jim and then wrote to Janey and Carl. "I'm nobody now," she thought, putting on her brown hat. "I'm just Sherry Ross, stripped of glamour and fame. I'm not rich. I'm just a girl who is going to marry Tony."

On the train she looked out over the snowy landscape. "I'm not afraid, not afraid. He will be there to meet me. I'll find his eyes in a crowd, and he'll smile tenderly and take my arm and lead me away. And today, late this afternoon, we'll be married and go—go home."

The train was quite crowded. People were going home for Christmas. Across the aisle from where sat the dangling legs of a doll had escaped a suitcase. On street corners red-faced boys were selling Christmas trees and the faces of little children were bright with anticipation.

Just before the train stopped Sherry gave herself a last glance in the mirror. "Idiot! Anybody can see you're going to be a bride today. I'm glad. I'm so glad I waited."

When she stepped off the train, a brown-clad girl with clear white skin and dark hair framing her face, she stopped still for a moment and looked around. There he was! There was Tony, pacing up and down with characteristic bridegroom impatience.

Across the space where people hurried, their eyes met and they started to walk toward each other, meeting half way.

Sherry heard a woman say, "This is the right train," and she thought, "Yes, and this is the right man."

Lifting her head, a proud, happy smile on her lips, she walked toward the "right man and the right life."

The End

Brown, and will be entitled "The Only Idea in All History That Has Been at the Same Time the Inspiration for All Revolt and the Foundation of All Allegiance." Miss Edna Dilworth will be the soloist and the choir, under the leadership of Chris Wade, will sing "Softly the Silent Night" (Forrester). At the conclusion of the service there will be an open discussion on "The Spiritual Bases of the Social Order," led by Rev. C. Bishop, Fred Davey, Frank Schroeder and Cecil Davies.

His subjects will be, in the morning at 11, "Jehovah's Great Concern for Israel"; in the afternoon there will be a rally open to all students of prophecy, when the subject will be "God's Great Timepiece of the Ages," and at the evening gospel service, "When Israel Sings Again."

TO COMMEMORATE ST. MATTHIAS

There will be celebrations of Holy Communion in Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday at 8 and 9:30 o'clock. Special hymns and prayers will be used, commemorating the life, work and martyrdom of St. Matthias.

The work of the Social Service Council of the church will also be remembered.

The preacher at the morning service will be Rev. T. R. Lancaster and Dean Quainton will preach at Evensong.

LAW OF HARMONY TO BE CONSIDERED

"The Law of Harmony and In Harmony, Embracing Love, Hatred and Its Effects," will be the subject of an address to be given by F. Karma at the Spiritual Science Temple, 1406 Douglas Street, on Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock. Messages and vespers will follow at the conclusion of the lecture.

This gifted speaker, a veteran of the World War, is continuing to draw a larger congregation each Sunday.

MRS. G. E. A. COLEY TO OUTLINE PLANS

The regular meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association, on Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the Foresters' Hall, will be addressed by Mrs. G. E. Altree Coley, whose recent Dominion tour made an important contribution to the present advance movement. Her subject will be "What Israel Ought to Do in the Next Nine Months."

PATIENCE TO BE SERMON SUBJECT

At Grace English Lutheran Church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Theo. A. Jansen, will preach on "Fruits of Patience." The choir will sing "O, That I Might Find Thee" (H. Von Berge). The young people's meeting at 7 o'clock will discuss the topic, "How Congregations Begin," with Rudolph Loeffler as leader.

The sermon subject at 7:45 will be "Miracles or Providence?" Miss Connie Barlow will sing "Eye Hath Not Seen" (A. R. Gaul), and the choir will sing "Jesus Calls" (V. Holt).

"YOUR HOROSCOPE" WILL BE SUBJECT

At the First Spiritualist Church, Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, there will be a public afternoon circle Sunday at 3 o'clock in Room 5, in the front of the hall. At 7:30 the speaker will be W. E. O'Cook, of New Westminster. Mr. O'Cook will take for his subject, "Your Horoscope, or a Message From Your Spirit Friends—Which?" The soloist will be Mrs. Marie Frankling. Messages will be given by Mr. O'Cook at the close of the address.

MISSIONARY FROM CHINA TO SPEAK

Rev. J. O. Fraser, B.A., of the China Inland Mission in Yunan Province, will speak in the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. C. H. Judd, the C.I.M. secretary for the North Pacific Coast, will also take part.

ORIGIN OF CELTS TO BE DISCUSSED

E. E. Richards Will Give Illustrated Lecture on Monday on "Celtic Race in Britain"

Speaking under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation, on Monday at 8 o'clock, in the Campbell Building, Fort and Douglas Street, E. E. Richards will follow up his recent lecture on "The Coming of the Anglo-Saxons," with an address on "The Origin and Migrations of the Celts to the British Isles." The meaning and object of the gathering of these people in the "Isles of the West," their traditions of future greatness and the vast empire that has been built upon the Celto-Anglo-Saxon amalgam, will be dealt with. The lecture will be illustrated with interesting lantern slides.

ST. MARY'S WILL HONOR FESTIVAL

Services at St. Mary's on Sunday will be Holy Communion at 8 o'clock. Matins and sermon at 11, the preacher being Rev. G. Stevenson, of Alberni, and Evensong and sermon at 7 o'clock.

Monday being the festival of St. Matthias, transferred from Sunday, there will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock. There will also be a celebration of Holy Communion on Thursday at 10:30.

DR. A. A. HOLZER TO SPEAK TWICE

Farewell services will be held at the Tabernacle of the Christian Missionary Alliance, Yates Street, below Government Street, for Dr. A. A. Holzer, of Seattle, who is passing through the city before leaving for Palestine. Dr. Holzer, who is devoting his life for his own people, the Jews, will give two outstanding addresses today. He will speak at 3 o'clock on "The Rejection and Restoration of Israel: An Exposition." The evening service is at 8, on the subject, "Israel in This Dispensation." The pastor, Rev. Daniel Walker, will conduct the services.

SEVERAL OFFICERS TO TAKE SERVICES

Major Fullerton, Victoria social officer, will lead the morning Holiness Meeting at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street, the subject of his address being "Fellowship." A musical meeting will be held in the afternoon under the direction of Bandmaster Ratcliffe, with the two bands of the Citadel and the Songster Brigade taking part. The theme of the service will be "Pickings From the Parables." Adjutant Sharp, representative of the subscribers' department on Vancouver Island, will lead the evening service.

TO SHOW WORD AS CAUSE OF CHANGE

Beginning where he left off last Sunday morning, Rev. W. R. Brown will continue, at Victoria West United at 11 o'clock Sunday, his series of sermons on the great truths enunciated by Jesus as He approached the end of His ministry. The subject will be "The Word That Led to the Revolution." William McDonald will lead the choir in the anthem "O Praise the Lord," and Mr. Pullen will sing "Beside Still Waters" (Hamblin).

Royal Jesters Arrive in City For Initiation

Some twenty Royal Jesters, of Seattle, arrived in Victoria yesterday, and fifteen more are expected today to conduct an initiation of a member. These initiations, which are marked by their elaborateness and mysteriousness, are usually held in Victoria.

Frank Hull, manager of the Olympic Hotel in Seattle, will be initiated as a Royal Jester. A dinner will be held by the members in one of the private dining-rooms of the Empress Hotel, and later the visitors will participate at the golf cabaret.

GIVES REPORT ON SUPERANNUATION

The question of the superannuation scheme as it affects the city was before the City Council yesterday, when a letter from the Provincial Secretary and another from New Westminster council were received.

Mayor Leeming explained that he had seen the minister with regard to the matter. The Provincial Secretary was not in a position to act until a conference had been held in Vancouver. His Worship said he had informed the minister that the situation was one which put it beyond the ability of the city to pay.

The Mayor advised no further action just now, as he believed the situation might be righted. The letters were accordingly filed.

What Today Means

"PISCHES"

If February 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

If you expect to enjoy the day, you will have to radiate a lot of cheerfulness. Frowns may come much easier than smiles, so it will be wise to smile. Gloom can never withstand the penetrative rays of joy. You will have it in your power to be a regular spreader of sunshine, if you will only make the effort. If you will use diplomacy on this date, you will be able to accomplish much more with a decidedly stubborn person you are likely to meet than if you try to enforce your wish through argument. Just bear in mind, gentle persuasive measures have even been known to work successfully on a mule. Married and engaged couples, as well as those eager to assume matrimonial responsibilities, will be wise if they avoid bringing up any debatable issues, which may through friction cause sparks of anger.

If a woman and February 23 is your birthday, you will display marvelous judgment if you develop the trait of being satisfied with what you have, and that which belongs to you. If other pastures look at a distance greener than your own, remember closer inspection may reveal they are quagmires which are likely to bemire the unsuspecting. You may love to play with fire, and if you do not control this impulse you are likely to learn it is a dangerous pastime. If you will realize real love and devotion are precious possessions, to be held on to, complications will never cause heartache. You will possibly have the handling of large sums of money, probably your own, but regardless to whom it may belong, you will be wise to avoid speculative ventures or lavish expenditures. Hotel or restaurant management, dancing, music, elocution, and certain branches of selling should offer means of earning a comfortable income. You will very likely be personally responsible for the degree of happiness matrimony has to offer.

The child born on February 23, generally when it reaches its teens, needs to learn fickleness does not pay.

If a man and February 23 is your natal day, in business guard against ambition tempting you to expand too rapidly. If you will build on a firm foundation, slowly but surely, your reward should fulfill your fondest expectations.

A mosque will be built in London under the direction of the Muslim Society of Great Britain. A sum of £28,000 has been expended on a site, and a balance of £32,000 remains from the donation of £60,000 by the Nazam of Hyderabad. It is stated to be the wish of the trustees, of whom Lord Headley is one, that the mosque should be an imposing structure worthy of the metropolis of a great Empire, whose King-Emperor rules over more Moslems than Christians.
